Boy Friend Flunks Lie Detector Test In Slaying of Girl

CINCINNATI (AP) — Hamilton County Prosecutor Raymond Shannon reports that bloodstains found on the trousers of Michael Wehrung, 15, were of the same type as the blood of Patricia Ann Rebol, who was found beaten to death early Friday in the back yard of a home in suburban Greenhills.

Army Guarding Crime Informer

Ex-Mobster Reported Safe at Jersey Camp

FT. MONMOUTH, N.J. (AP) — This heavily guarded Army post was disclosed today as the secret hideout of Joseph Valachi, 60, the former mobster reportedly facing an underworld death sentence for informing on a nationwide crime syndicate.

Valachi's presence here under heavy guard was confirmed by Army information officer Peter Hoffman after the New York Daily News reported it in a copy-righted story.

Valachi for more than a year has been telling all he knows about the nation's $40 billion annual crime industry to Justice Department agents.

They have sworn to keep him alive despite a reported $100,000 underworld offer to whoever kills him for violating crime's code of silence.

The Justice Department declined to confirm that Valachi is at Ft. Monmouth.

Justice officials, who consider Valachi the most important informer they have ever had in the war against organized crime, have tried to keep his whereabouts a closely guarded secret.

"If we let him out on the street he'd be dead in an hour," a spokesman has said.

Valachi has described the blood oath taken by members of the syndicate, saying—"If I talk, I'm dead."

Valachi has a date to tell Senate investigators his story that the syndicate controls the nation's underworld through a ruling council of crime "families," headed by narcotics boss Vito Genovese, Valachi's former cell mate in the Atlanta federal penitentiary.

Barbed wire and a maximum security guard watch over Valachi here, the News said. Ft. Monmouth, about 25 miles south of New York City, is heavily guarded because of secret areas, including electronic laboratories.

Rock-Throwing Mars Berlin Rites

BERLIN (AP)—A second anniversary memorial service at the Berlin wall Tuesday night grew into a rock-throwing demonstration by 1,500 West Berliners at two crossing points on the 26½-mile barrier between East and West Berlin.

Most of West Berlin's 2.2 million people heeded pleas of authorities to avoid demonstrations as useless.

Memorial services were held at places along the wall, and a mysterious early morning explosion and a shot were heard on the East Berlin side.

The demonstration ended shortly before midnight after almost four hours of shouting and shouting.

It began after a group of 200 youths placed a wreath at a memorial for persons killed trying to escape from East Berlin.

"The boy has not given a satisfactory explanation of the bloodstains on his trousers," Shannon said, and he added that young Wehrung is to be questioned again today at the Greenhills police station.

After six hours of questioning Tuesday night in which a polygraph was used, there was this exchange between young Wehrung and his mother:

"Son, did you tell them the truth?"

"Yes, Mom, I told them the truth, but they won't believe me," Shannon said the long test showed the boy had not told the truth on some questions of the night Patricia Ann was choked and clubbed to death.

Wehrung went home with his mother, Mrs. Dawn Wehrung, for the night, but another polygraph test was planned for him today.

Tuesday's lie detector test started about four hours after Wehrung and his family attended funeral services for Patricia.

Her body was found early Friday in a back yard a street from Michael's home in suburban Greenhills. Her skull was crushed. She was not sexually molested.

She had left a Legion Hall dance a few minutes before enroute to Michael's home. She had called the Wehrung home before leaving to ask permission to stop there.

Detectives said Michael told them he became worried about the girl when she failed to show up by 10 p.m. from the dance and went out to look for her but saw nothing.

Michael, a husky crew-cut weight lifter and freshman football player, had been dating Patricia a school cheerleader for about four months.

Martial Law Keeps Calm In Brazzaville

BRAZZAVILLE, Congo Republic (AP)—Martial law preserved an uneasy calm in Brazzaville after a day of battle that may herald the formation of a revolutionary movement seeking to overthrow President Fulbert Youlou.

A 5 p.m.-to-5 a.m. curfew was enforced, and gatherings of more than three persons were forbidden.

Labor unionists, after launching a general strike, stored the imprisoned labor union leaders and all other prisoners and set the building afire. They also sacked the city's television station.

Youlou said today he is taking over both civil and military authority and promised "necessary reforms."

The 46-year-old chief executive broadcast a statement via the Brazzaville Radio, which was damaged by striking workers Tuesday.

"Because of the gravity of the situation, I am taking in my personal name the civil and military powers," Youlou said.

A committee formed under the authority of the chief of state will be charged with re-establishing order, resuming work and carrying out necessary reforms.

But before getting to the fine points the big picture should be made crystal-clear: As things stand now, the measure would cut your tax payments.

True, the tax bill has a long way to go before it reaches President Kennedy's desk. The House Ways and Means Committee has lots of work still to do on the measure.

Then it has to clear the House Rules Committee, face the full House and travel over to the Senate for another round of hearings and floor action. There it may run into a filibuster on civil rights. This being understood, let's have a look at the tax bill as it stands now and see what it means to you if the measure in its present form wins approval.

If you pay any taxes at all, you'll be paying less. You would have to have a most peculiarly constructed income not to get some benefit from an across the board slash of tax rates, even though the package also includes some tax-raising features.

The Treasury puts the average rate cut, for taxpayers with taxable incomes through $50,000, at 15½ per cent. This picture is painted with a broad brush and

New Robbery Clues Probed

Scotland Yard Combs Lonely Farm Hideout

LONDON (AP) — British police investigating the great mail train robbery followed up a new avenue of leads today uncovered by the discovery of a lonely farm that was the gang's hideout.

Scotland Yard had: The name and address of a man to whom the farm was sold less than a month ago.

A description of a charming, expensively dressed man who came to collect the keys. Descriptions of a ginger-haired stranger and a brunette woman seen in the district by suspicious country folk.

Although the police appeared to be making progress, there was still no trace of the more than $7 million snatched from the Glasgow-London night mail train last Thursday.

Detectives, fingerprint men and other police experts swarmed over Leatherslade Farm, the robbers' den 18 miles from the scene of the crime.

An unconfirmed report said an underworld source had furnished the names of 10 criminals supposed to have taken part in the raid.

Inquiries stretched to the French Riviera. The leader of the gang was thought to have gone there some days before the robbery to provide himself an alibi.

A truck and two army-type vehicles used by the bandits were found at the farm. Police also found empty mailbags, supplies of canned food and a hole in the front yard, apparently dug with the idea of burning evidence.

The area was sealed off and no unauthorized person could get within half a mile of the farm.

Less than a mile away is an air strip which could have been used for a getaway.

Police said they believed the gang quit the hideout in panic two or three days ago. There were signs of a hasty departure.

Bathyscaphe Set For New Search

BOSTON (AP) — The bathyscaphe Trieste returns today for a second try at finding the nuclear submarine Thresher, this time with help from brightly painted discs planted on the ocean floor.

Trieste will be towed to the search area 220 miles east of Boston. The trip takes four days.

Thresher disappeared April 10 while on a test dive with 129 men aboard.

Painted and numbered discs were planted in a pattern around what is believed to be the grave of the Thresher 8400 feet below the surface.

The Navy said 1,441 discs, each weighted to secure it to the bottom, are intended to provide more precise data on the Bathyscaphe's position as she crawls along the bottom.

India Blast Kills 32

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Dynamite exploded as it was being unloaded at a police storage dump in Assam State Tuesday and 32 persons were killed.

The FDA set a deadline of Sept. 6 in the order published in the Federal Register of July 23. A spokesman for the Pharmaceutical Manufacturers Assn. said today many companies cannot comply by that date.

The spokesman expressed the opinion the companies probably cannot devise tests to prove the effectiveness of the drugs, as required, "let alone carry them out." He said he had no definite figures on the sales value of affected products but doubtless it is well over $1 million a year.

FDA acted under authority contained in the 1962 amendments to the Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act which allow it to require proof of both efficacy and safety of drugs.

The agency has not questioned the safety of the antibiotics, of which about 30 of the lesser used ones are affected. But it said labeling claims on effectiveness of the products are not supported by available medical data.

Sharp Boost In Blue Cross Rate Slated

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Retired public and school employees of Central Ohio participating in a Blue Cross health insurance plan will see their premiums sharply doubled—effective Nov. 1.

State Insurance Supt. William Morris reported Tuesday that the hikes are coming under Central Hospital Service's "merit rating" plan. The plan, approved by the state in 1958, Morris said, allows for increases without further state approval.

The increases, attributed to heavy losses by the insurance firm in its service to the retired employees, range from 55 to 94 per cent.

The 94 per cent boost affects 2,400 members of the Public Employees Retirement System of Ohio living in Central's territory. One-person coverage, now costing $3.85 a month will go to $7.49. The monthly $7.55 family coverage fee will become $14.69.

Some 1500 retired teachers will pay 75 per cent above present rates and about 150 members of the Public School Employees Retirement System will pay 55 per cent more than they have been.

Drug Makers Told To Prove Varied Claims

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Food and Drug Administration has ordered drug manufacturers to prove their claims for antibiotics in a wide variety of compounds such as throat lozenges, nose drops and sprays, which generally can be bought without prescription.

Underground Shots Needed

Gen. Taylor Outlines Views to Probers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor told senators today that the nation's top military leaders approve the limited nuclear test ban treaty even though "there are military disadvantages."

Taylor, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, gave his views to a closed session of the Senate Preparedness subcommittee even as Dr. Glenn T. Seaborg, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, was supporting the treaty at public hearings by other Senate groups.

Seaborg said he was convinced the treaty's restriction of testing of underground explosions would not prevent the United States from developing an antimissile warhead. He said underground testing would permit development of a wide range of nuclear weapons.

Taylor read to the preparedness subcommittee, headed by Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., a carefully prepared statement on the position of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Taylor said, "If we ratify this treaty, we must conduct a vigorous underground testing program and be ready on short notice to resume atmospheric testing. We should strengthen our detection capabilities and maintain modern nuclear laboratory facilities and programs."

"Finally, we must not for a moment forget that militant communism remains committed to the destruction of our society."

As the third witness at Senate hearings, Seaborg strongly backed earlier testimony from Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara that ratification of the limited test ban treaty would be in the best interests of the United States.

The treaty would prohibit nuclear testing in the atmosphere, in outer space, and under water, but it would not bar continued testing underground.

One of the questions some senators have raised is whether the treaty would seriously handicap U. S. development of missile defenses.

Seaborg said "it appears technically feasible to test underground up to several hundred kilotons and perhaps, with more experience and greater ingenuity, to even higher levels."

"This would permit a wide range of development including complete development and proof-testing of warheads for battlefield, air defense, antimissile, and anti-submarine use."

He also said that "promising applications of nuclear explosives for peaceful purposes will be developed and demonstrated under the treaty."

"At such times as the benefits have been demonstrated," he added, "the parties may wish to (Continued on Page 2)

3 Miners Sought In Pennsy Pit

HAZLETON, Pa. (AP)—Rescuers waited today for ventilation to clear deadly gases before resuming the search for three miners trapped and presumed dead 380 to 450 feet below ground.

Trapped in the Fellin Coal Co. mine near Shepton about 15 miles from Hazleton Tuesday were Louis Bova, 42, Pattersonville; David Felin, 58, Septon, and Henry Thorne, 48, Hazleton. The slope where they were working was filled with tons of coal and rock.

Mine officials indicated there was no hope the men survived.

H. B. Charnbury, state secretary of mines, suspended rescue attempts after workers were forced back by deadly gas and passages blocked by rock, coal and debris. Charnbury ordered the walls shored to prevent another cave-in.

New Robbery Clues Probed

Scotland Yard Combs Lonely Farm Hideout

LONDON (AP) — British police investigating the great mail train robbery followed up a new avenue of leads today uncovered by the discovery of a lonely farm that was the gang's hideout.

Scotland Yard had: The name and address of a man to whom the farm was sold less than a month ago.

A description of a charming, expensively dressed man who came to collect the keys.

Descriptions of a ginger-haired stranger and a brunette woman seen in the district by suspicious country folk.

Although the police appeared to be making progress, there was still no trace of the more than $7 million snatched from the Glasgow-London night mail train last Thursday.

Detectives, fingerprint men and other police experts swarmed over Leatherslade Farm, the robbers' den 18 miles from the scene of the crime.

An unconfirmed report said an underworld source had furnished the names of 10 criminals supposed to have taken part in the raid.

Inquiries stretched to the French Riviera. The leader of the gang was thought to have gone there some days before the robbery to provide himself an alibi.

A truck and two army-type vehicles used by the bandits were found at the farm. Police also found empty mailbags, supplies of canned food and a hole in the front yard, apparently dug with the idea of burning evidence.

The area was sealed off and no unauthorized person could get within half a mile of the farm.

Less than a mile away is an air strip which could have been used for a getaway.

Police said they believed the gang quit the hideout in panic two or three days ago. There were signs of a hasty departure.

Bathyscaphe Set For New Search

BOSTON (AP) — The bathyscaphe Trieste returns today for a second try at finding the nuclear submarine Thresher, this time with help from brightly painted discs planted on the ocean floor.

Trieste will be towed to the search area 220 miles east of Boston. The trip takes four days.

Thresher disappeared April 10 while on a test dive with 129 men aboard.

Painted and numbered discs were planted in a pattern around what is believed to be the grave of the Thresher 8400 feet below the surface.

The Navy said 1,441 discs, each weighted to secure it to the bottom, are intended to provide more precise data on the bathyscaphe's position as she crawls along the bottom.

Circleville Schools Will Open Sept. 3

Circleville City Schools will open its initial session of the 1963-64 term at 8:30 a. m. Sept. 3.

Fritz Jacobs, superintendent, said students will attend classes for one-half day on the opening day with buses returning students at 11:45. The first full day of classes will be Sept. 4.

Buses will operate on the same schedule as last year with the same procedure. Seventh grade students will meet at the Atwater, High St. and Franklin Buildings for transportation to the S. Court St. School. The same time schedule as last year will also be in effect.

A complete schedule will be published prior to the opening of school.

Kindergarten students will have their registration on Sept. 4, due to completion of registration on Sept. 3. These students will not be transported to school and arrangements for car pools should be completed by parents, the superintendent said.

Parents who have not presented birth certificates of first graders and kindergarten students must do so before the child will be admitted for school, Jacobs pointed out.

All students who did not attend here last year are urged to register at the superintendent's office immediately.

Also, principals at the S. Court St. and Atwater Buildings will be in their respective offices during the day beginning Monday. Principals at High St. and Franklin will be on duty beginning Aug. 26.

New students for Wayne Twp., Corwin and Walnut St. are to register at the S. Court St. Building. Those for Nicholas Drive who are new are to register at the Atwater building.

Superintendent Jacobs noted that this registration does not apply to students who attended Circleville schools last year and those who have already completed registration requirements.

Sharp Boost In Blue Cross Rate Slated

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Retired public and school employees of Central Ohio participating in a Blue Cross health insurance plan will see their premiums sharply doubled—effective Nov. 1.

State Insurance Supt. William Morris reported Tuesday that the hikes are coming under Central Hospital Service's "merit rating" plan. The plan, approved by the state in 1958, Morris said, allows for increases without further state approval.

The increases, attributed to heavy losses by the insurance firm in its service to the retired employees, range from 55 to 14 per cent.

The 94 per cent boosts affect 2,400 members of the Public Employees Retirement System of Ohio living in Central's territory. One-person coverage, now costing $3.85 a month will go to $7.49. The monthly $7.55 family coverage fee will become $14.69.

Some 1500 retired teachers will pay 75 per cent above present rates and about 150 members of the Public School Employees Retirement System will pay 55 per cent more than they have been.

Drug Makers Told To Prove Varied Claims

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Food and Drug Administration has ordered drug manufacturers to prove their claims for antibiotics in a wide variety of compounds such as throat lozenges, nose drops and sprays, which generally can be bought without prescription.

The FDA set a deadline of Sept. 6 in the order published in the Federal Register of July 23. A spokesman for the Pharmaceutical Manufacturers Assn. said today many companies cannot comply by that date.

The spokesman expressed the opinion the companies probably cannot devise tests to prove the effectiveness of the drugs, as required, "let alone carry them out." He said he had no definite figures on the sales value of affected products but doubtless it is well over $1 million a year.

FDA acted under authority contained in the 1962 amendments to the Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act which allow it to require proof of both efficacy and safety of drugs.

The agency has not questioned the safety of the antibiotics, of which about 30 of the lesser used ones are affected. But it said labeling claims on effectiveness of the products are not supported by available medical data.

Underground Shots Needed

Gen. Taylor Outlines Views to Probers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor told senators today that the nation's top military leaders approve the limited nuclear test ban treaty even though "there are military disadvantages."

Taylor, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, gave his views to a closed session of the Senate Preparedness subcommittee even as Dr. Glenn T. Seaborg, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, was supporting the treaty at public hearings by other Senate groups.

Seaborg said he was convinced the treaty's restriction of testing of underground explosions would not prevent the United States from developing an antimissile warhead. He said underground testing would permit development of a wide range of nuclear weapons.

Taylor read to the preparedness subcommittee, headed by Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., a carefully prepared statement on the position of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Taylor said, "If we ratify this treaty, we must conduct a vigorous underground testing program and be ready on short notice to resume atmospheric testing. We should strengthen our detection capabilities and maintain modern nuclear laboratory facilities and programs."

"Finally, we must not for a moment forget that militant communism remains committed to the destruction of our society."

As the third witness at Senate hearings, Seaborg, strongly backed earlier testimony from Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara that ratification of the limited test ban treaty would be in the best interests of the United States.

The treaty would prohibit nuclear testing in the atmosphere, in outer space and under water, but it would not bar continued testing underground.

One of the questions some senators have raised is whether the treaty would seriously handicap U. S. development of missile defenses.

Seaborg said "it appears technically feasible to test underground up to several hundred kilometers and perhaps, with more experience and greater ingenuity, to even higher levels."

"This would permit a wide range of development including complete development and proof-test of warheads for battlefield, air defense, antimissile, and anti-submarine use."

He also said that "promising applications of nuclear explosives for peaceful purposes will be developed and demonstrated under the treaty."

"At such times as the benefits have been demonstrated," he added, "the parties may wish to (Continued on Page 2)

A-Bombed Japan Signs Test Pact

WASHINGTON (AP) — Japan the only nation ever hit by a wartime atomic attack added its agreement today to the treaty banning nuclear tests in the atmosphere outer space and under water.

Although no mention was made of it at the State Department signing ceremonies, the action came on the 18th anniversary of Japan's surrender ending World War II.

The surrender was hastened by the dropping of atomic bombs on Hiroshima and Nagasaki.

Pakistan also signed the pact and Burma arranged to sign later today, boosting to about 60 the number of nations agreeing to the limited test ban treaty negotiated by the United States, Britain and Russia.

Six others signed Tuesday. They were Costa Rica, Iraq, Jamaica, Nicaragua, Spain and Syria.

Here Is How Proposed Tax Measure May Affect American Pocketbook

WASHINGTON (AP)—The tax bill is moving well enough along in Congress to have a look now at what it would do for you or to you.

But before getting to the fine points the big picture should be made crystal-clear: As things stand now, the measure would cut your tax payments.

True, the tax bill has a long way to go before it reaches President Kennedy's desk. The House Ways and Means Committee has lots of work still to do on the measure. Then it has to clear the House Rules Committee, face the full House and travel over to the Senate for another round of hearings and floor action. There it may run into a filibuster on civil rights.

This being understood, let's have a look at the tax bill as it stands now and see what it means to you if the measure in its present form wins approval.

If you pay any taxes at all, you'll be paying less. You would have to have a most peculiarly constructed income not to get some benefit from an across the board slash of tax rates, even though the package also includes some tax-raising features.

The Treasury puts the average rate cut, for taxpayers with taxable incomes through $90,000, at 15 1/2 per cent. This picture is painted with a broad brush and applies to the rate changes when they would be complete, Jan. 1, 1965. Take it as a rough guide if you like—but no more than that. For 1964 figure two-thirds of the full saving.

However in tax matters, everybody is a special case. How much benefit you would actually reap depends on a number of factors. Your income bracket, whether you receive dividends, whether you drive your automobile a lot, whether you buy and sell stocks, whether your income fluctuates widely from year to year—all these and more can be important.

Some guidelines can be potted, subject to possible change. Among them are these, all applying to the complete revision planned for 1965 and subsequent years:

—If your income is either very high or very low, you would do better proportionately in the reductions than the man in the middle.

The Treasury says a typical taxpayer, if there is such a creature, married and with two children, earning $4,000, would save $100, about 41 per cent of his present tax bill.

His counterpart in the $10,000 class would save $202, or 16.9 per cent.

—If you have been in the habit of itemizing your deductions and claiming the amount paid in state (Continued on Page 16)

House Panel OKs Tax Slash

Average Cut Is Set At about 15 1/2 Pct.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Ways and Means Committee voted today for an income tax rate slash estimated by the Treasury to average 15 1/2 per cent for most taxpayers.

The Treasury's latest proposal on individual tax rates, ranging from 14 to 70 per cent, was accepted for inclusion in a bill the House is expected to act on by early September. The present range of rates is 20 to 91 per cent.

The committee recessed before taking up the corporate rate question. The Treasury has recommended a reduction from 52 to 48 per cent in this field.

Also approved today was the timing suggested by the administration—two-thirds of the individual rate reduction to go into effect Jan. 1, 1964, and the remainder a year later.

The committee defeated by one vote—13-12—a Republican motion that would have made the second part of the cut depend on holding the public debt to a specified limit.

Before today's committee action, Rep. John W. Byrnes, R-Wis., senior Republican member on the committee, was openly skeptical about President Kennedy's plans to balance the budget.

Ole Miss Integration Pioneer Taking Finals

OXFORD, Miss (AP)—James Howard Meredith 30, winds up his classroom work today at the University of Mississippi, where he enrolled last fall to the sound of exploding tear gas shells.

The Negro who pioneered integration at Ole Miss will return to this oak-circled campus on Sunday to receive a bachelor of arts degree in political science.

He takes his last final examination today and plans to depart for Jackson by car to stay with his ailing wife until the weekend. His wife recently underwent minor surgery.

The graduation ceremonies Sunday will be held in a quiet grove of trees which was used as a staging area last Sept 30 by the rioting crowds who attacked marshals ringed around the campus administration building.

Two persons died and scores were injured during the bloody night. More than 23,000 federal troops poured into the Oxford area to restore order in the boldest use of force the federal government had made against a state since the Civil War.

"It appears doubtful that anything has been accomplished," Meredith told an interviewer. He referred to the constant presence of federal marshals wherever he went on campus.

The protecting marshals will even follow him to Jackson and return Sunday to witness his graduation.

Meredith, a slightly-built Air Force veteran who wears a thin mustache, said the need for the marshals "is really an acknowledgment of white supremacy."

Gov. Ross Barnett is making one last attempt to boot Meredith out of the university without a diploma. He asked that Meredith's degree be held up pending a study of charges that Meredith violated university edicts against "inflammatory statements."

Barnett wants a report made to Thursday's meeting of the State Sovereignty Commission — the state's official segregation watchdog.

Smiling First Lady Leaves Hospital; Condition Excellent

OTIS AIR FORCE BASE, Mass. (AP)—Mrs. John F. Kennedy, holding the President's hand and managing a smile, went home from the hospital today and her doctor promptly suggested that she curtail all of her official activities "until after the first of the year."

The long convalescent period was similar to one Dr. John W. Walsh had advised for Mrs. Kennedy after the birth of her first son, also by Caesarean section, in 1960.

Mrs. Kennedy "had made a very satisfactory recovery," said White House press secretary Pierre Salinger in a statement shortly after Mrs. Kennedy left the hospital at Otis Air Force Base.

She flew by helicopter with the President to their Squaw Island summer home near Hyannis Port where she will stay now probably into mid-September.

The President and Mrs. Kennedy walked slowly down the two stone hospital steps and the short distance to a waiting blue car, which drove them to a nearby helicopter pad. The President helped Mrs. Kennedy into the car.

Mrs. Kennedy had a long hairdo, vastly different from the bouffant ones she usually wears.

Photographers and reporters stood behind a rope barrier and Air Force personnel, families and children came out to watch Mrs. Kennedy's departure after a week in the hospital following the birth of her third child Patrick Bouvier Kennedy, who lived less than two days.

Led by two Air Force police cars, the motorcade moved out to the helicopter landing area, where they took off for the 12-minute ride back to the Kennedy summer home on Squaw Island, near Hyannis Port, where Mrs. Kennedy will convalesce with her family.

Mrs. Kennedy's recovery from the emergency Caesarean birth last Wednesday has been described as excellent, and her discharge from the military hospital here was approved.

Not only the Kennedy youngsters, Caroline, 5 1/2, and John Jr., 2 1/2, will welcome Mrs. Kennedy home. There's a new puppy as well.

President Kennedy who flew here from Washington Tuesday night, brought a nine-week-old blue roan cocker spaniel as a gift for Mrs. Kennedy. It was given to him by Irish cousins after his visit to Ireland.

Shortly after the President entered the hospital, his press secretary, Pierre Salinger, announced plans for Mrs. Kennedy's departure.

Mrs. Kennedy's recovery from this Caesarean seemed far speedier than when John Jr. was born on Nov. 25, 1960. It was 14 days before Mrs. Kennedy left Georgetown University Hospital in Washington. And she was wheeled to the front door by Kennedy, then President-elect.

Under questioning by Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, McNamara said he believed all his military advisers, including the Joint Chiefs of Staff, considered the treaty, with its safeguards, "compatible with the security of the United States."

While McNamara conceded that atmospheric testing of a complete antimissile system would not be possible under the treaty, he insisted that kind of testing would "not be necessary to reach a decision on whether or not we should deploy the system."

The core of his testimony was a contention that the United States has nuclear warheads "in the tens of thousands" and that the treaty would help preserve a U.S. lead over the Soviet Union.

He gave his "unequivocal support" to ratification and sought to assure the Senate of U.S. determination to maintain a nuclear force he called "manifestly superior to the Soviet Union's."

The Foreign Relations group, with members of the Armed Services and Senate House Atomic Energy Committees sitting in, is holding hearings on the treaty to prohibit testing in the atmosphere, underwater and in outer space, but not underground. Senate ratification requires a two-thirds majority.

While McNamara conceded that atmospheric testing of a complete antimissile system would not be possible under the treaty, he insisted that kind of testing would "not be necessary to reach a decision on whether or not we should deploy the system."

The core of his testimony was a contention that the United States has nuclear warheads "in the tens of thousands" and that the treaty would help preserve a U.S. lead over the Soviet Union.

He gave his "unequivocal support" to ratification and sought to assure the Senate of U.S. determination to maintain a nuclear force he called "manifestly superior to the Soviet Union's."

Several miscellaneous items were completed last night by the Circleville Board of Education prior to the opening of school.

Two teachers were employed by the Board, completing the list of teaching positions for the school year. Hired were Mrs. Ruth Eblin, 245 Edward Road, for a fourth grade position at S. Court St., and Mrs. Lucille Webb for a sixth grade post at Nicholas Drive.

The board also offered a contract to Miss Diane Mazur, Rossford, O., and agreed to release Mrs. Margaret Steele, Laurelville, if Miss Mazur accepts. Mrs. Steele resides at Laurelville, was offered a position at Laurelville and asked the Board for a release from her contract.

Extra curricular assignments completed were: Mrs. Betty Rick as adviser for the freshman SOS Club; Juanita Phillips, sophomore SOS Club; Phillip Everett Hi-Y Club adviser; Mrs. Janet Boggs, senior class adviser; Margaret Draper, eighth grade librarian; James Lint, track coach; Paul S. Smith, seventh and eighth grade track; and Dave LaBounty was assigned as coach for a cross country team being initiated this year on a trial basis.

THE Board gave its approval for two students to receive diplomas from the high school. The students, David Fouch and Betty Siniff Monroe, will be awarded the diplomas pending completion of requirements.

Board member Ed Grigg was authorized to attend a two-day session of the Ohio School Boards Assn. on Nov. 13-14 in Columbus as the local delegate.

Contracts for bus insurance were re-awarded to the local Darrell Hatfield Agency. The agreements are renewable next month.

Superintendent Jacobs discussed the possibility of adding another first grade class at Nicholas Drive. He said the state may be necessary if the first grade enrollment remains as is, or increases by the first of September.

Jacobs said the new class may be added if a teacher can be secured. Students involved would be forced to meet on the stage of the multi-purpose room, he added, due to a shortage of classrooms.

Smiling First Lady Leaves Hospital; Condition Excellent

OTIS AIR FORCE BASE, Mass. (AP)—Mrs. John F. Kennedy, holding the President's hand and managing a smile, went home from the hospital today and her doctor promptly suggested that she curtail all of her official activities "until after the first of the year."

The long convalescent period was similar to one Dr. John W. Walsh had advised for Mrs. Kennedy after the birth of her first son, also by Caesarean section, in 1960.

Mrs. Kennedy "had made a very satisfactory recovery," said White House press secretary Pierre Salinger in a statement shortly after Mrs. Kennedy left the hospital at Otis Air Force Base.

She flew by helicopter with the President to their Squaw Island summer home near Hyannis Port where she will stay now probably into mid-September.

The President and Mrs. Kennedy walked slowly down the two stone hospital steps and the short distance to a waiting blue car, which drove them to a nearby helicopter pad. The President helped Mrs. Kennedy into the car.

Mrs. Kennedy had a long hair, vastly different from the bouffant ones she usually wears.

Photographers and reporters stood behind a rope barrier and Air Force personnel, families and children came out to watch Mrs. Kennedy's departure after a week in the hospital following the birth of her third child Patrick Bouvier Kennedy, who lived less than two days.

Led by two Air Force police cars, the motorcade moved out to the helicopter landing area, where they took off for the 12-minute ride back to the Kennedy summer home on Squaw Island, near Hyannis Port, where Mrs. Kennedy will convalesce with her family.

Mrs. Kennedy's recovery from the emergency Caesarean birth last Wednesday has been described as excellent, and her discharge from the military hospital here was approved.

Not only the Kennedy youngsters, Caroline, 5½, and John Jr., 2½, will welcome Mrs. Kennedy home. There's a new puppy as well.

President Kennedy who flew here from Washington Tuesday

night, brought a nine-week-old blue roan cocker spaniel as a gift for Mrs. Kennedy. It was given to him by Irish cousins after his visit to Ireland.

Shortly after the President entered the hospital, his press secretary, Pierre Salinger, announced plans for Mrs. Kennedy's departure.

Mrs. Kennedy's recovery from this Caesarean seemed far speedier than when John Jr. was born on Nov. 25, 1960. It was 14 days before Mrs. Kennedy left Georgetown University Hospital in Washington. And she was wheeled to the front door by Kennedy, then President-elect.

House Panel OKs Tax Slash

Average Cut Is Set At about 15½ Pct.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Ways and Means Committee voted today for an income tax rate slash estimated by the Treasury to average 15½ per cent for most taxpayers.

The Treasury's latest proposal on individual tax rates, ranging from 14 to 70 per cent, was accepted for inclusion in a bill the House is expected to act on by early September. The present range of rates is 20 to 91 per cent.

The committee recessed before taking up the corporate rate question. The Treasury has recommended a reduction from 52 to 48 per cent in this field.

Also approved today was the timing suggested by the administration—two-thirds of the individual rate reduction to go into effect Jan. 1, 1964, and the remainder a year later.

The committee defeated by one vote—13-12—a Republican motion that would have made the second part of the cut depend on holding the public debt to a specified limit.

Before today's committee action, Rep. John W. Byrnes, R-Wis., senior Republican member on the committee, was openly skeptical about President Kennedy's plans to balance the budget.

Symbol of Communism

The world is about to celebrate an anniversary of sorts. On Aug. 13, 1961, the Berlin wall started going up. Behind this wall the people of East Berlin are slaves, or prisoners serving life terms in an institution.

Where other nations permit their disgruntled citizens to leave and call it good riddance, the communists murder them if they try to leave.

The Berlin wall is only a more dramatic symbol of what the communists do everywhere. It divides a great city and is more conspicuous than the barbed wire and watch towers and machine guns that shut off East Germany from West Germany in the woods and through the farms of the similar barriers between Hungary and Austria, for instance, guarding older frontiers more brutally than they were guarded in the past.

Wherever the communists enter, they divide. Korea is divided today. One of the first acts in the "temporary" Soviet occupation of Korea after World War II was to crack down on travel between North and South, stop the flow of electric power, and generally curtail human intercourse among Koreans.

Part of the reason for the Berlin wall was that communism, even after many years in power, cannot stand comparison. Efforts to make East Berlin a communist showplace were a failure anyway. Now people get less to eat and to wear.

The Berlin wall cannot stand forever, but if Moscow ever tears it down voluntarily, East Berlin will be all but depopulated over night.

That Personal Touch

In Philadelphia the other day, a juvenile court judge ordered a 16-year-old boy to quit high school and go to work to help support the family of a man he ran down with an auto. He is to work as a hod-carrier with a construction firm, and will turn over half his weekly salary to the man, his wife and three children.

This may seem a harsh penalty. Yet the principle of it must be endorsed. Young people, particularly those with a penchant for vandalism, must be made to pay personally for their misdemeanors.

Too often the penalty can be paid off by listening to a lecture from the court, perhaps based soundly enough in psychology but with less memorable effect, plus a contribution from father's check book for the fine.

A return to the old work-and-woodshed philosophy might save many young people the shame of graduating, without honors, from the juvenile to the criminal courts.

Another Lesson in Double Talk

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — It's time again to brush up on our conversational skill with another lesson in double talk.

Double talk you will recall is one of the highest art forms of modern civilization.

It is the ability to say one thing clearly and convincingly—while actually you are thinking just the opposite.

Anyone today who says exactly what he means, and means exactly what he says, is hopelessly neanderthal or wildly eccentric.

To get along with the other fellow, you tell him what he wants to hear — and keep your honest opinions to yourself.

Truth is for polar bears; people can't stand the strain of it. They prefer the illusion of truth.

For those who haven't learned how to play the game, here are a few examples of double talk—followed, parenthetically, by literal translations:

"It's a lovely roast, but I think I've had plenty." (Cut me another piece, stupid, or are you trying to save it all for the dog?)

"Oh, here comes the waiter now with the bill. Shall we go dutch, Mabel?" (Pick up the check, you henna-haired Midas. You know I bought lunch the last time.)

"Yep, reverend, that was a real inspirational sermon, got a lot out of it." (What the devil was he mumbling about anyway?)

"What a cute kid! He's a spitting image of you Bill." (What do you call him—slobbering Willie?)

"It's not just the money, boss. I feel I deserve a raise as a matter of principle." (It's the money.)

Gee, Hortense, I could just sit and look at you all evening."

"(But how about a little action, baby? I'm slowly falling asleep.)"

"It is now my pleasure to yield the floor to my esteemed colleague—" (Old blabbermouth a ways has to get his two cents worth in.)

"Well, I guess I will have just one more for the road, Bob. Make it light." (But at least wet the bottom of the glass this time. You pour liquor like it was priceles glue.)

"Please stop, Hector, or I'll scream." (Thank heavens, I have got laryngitis.)

"I think a little extra weight on a man makes him look more attractive." (But not when he already looks like a walrus.)

"Wonderful party. Where'd you find so many interesting people to invite?" (The zoo? The brewery? The city dump?)

The Business World

By Sam Dawson

NEW YORK (AP) — Money is getting tighter and short-term interest rates are rising. At the same time, Americans are increasing their installment debt to new heights and banks and other lenders are competing hard for new outlets for their cash on hand.

The opposing trends are alarming some on both sides of the credit fence. The debate over cheap money vs. dear—never entirely stilled—is due to break out loudly again.

The spurt in the cost of short-term borrowing is reflected in the rise this week in the U.S. Treasury's 91-day bills yield to 3.35 per cent, highest since May 26, 1960.

The money managers had planned it that way. They recently raised from 3 per cent to 3.5 per cent the discount which member banks are charged to borrow from the Federal Reserve banks.

The aim is to put yields so high that idle dollars will stay in this country instead of flowing abroad to upset further our international payments, with resulting strain on the dollar and on our gold reserves.

Some feel the money managers are also convinced that credit has been too easy.

The conservatives cite the rise of installment credit outstanding to more than $50 billion, due largely to the near record sales of autos and increased purchasing of big ticket appliances on time.

They also note that some banks have been stretching the time in which auto loans can be repaid, and charge that some financial institutions have been lending money on mortgages where the credit risk was higher than they would have approved while back.

Increased use of credit by stock speculators also is charged. Conservative financial circles always shudder when credit standards are being relaxed.

But those who see economic growth as today's main goal disagree.

They want even easier money

They argue that cheaper short-term money aids smaller businessmen in their day-to-day activities.

They contend that longer term borrowing must be easy and cheap if business is to expand and thus create new jobs for the unemployed, a sizable group that threatens to increase.

Easier money advocates also wants more homes built with financing readily available at terms that middle and lower income families can afford.

And the huge installment debt has been a bulwark of many consumer industries that otherwise would see their sales dwindle.

THE PLAYROOM of a pampered lad in a lakeshore duplex is filled with cloth animals: lions, tigers, and what-not. One day the lad's mother decided the menagerie needed cleaning, and consigned the animals to the electric washing machine in the laundry. While she was superintending the operation, her phone rang. The boy answered. "Mother is home," he cooed, "but she can't come to the phone right now. She's stuffing an elephant into the washing machine."

There was a pause at the other end of the line and then a man murmured weakly, "I see. I guess I have the wrong number"—and hung up.

The bride-of-a-month giggled nervously as she passed the cocktails at the first formal dinner party she hosted. "I do hope these martinis will hit the spot," she quavered. "We ran out of olives, so I had to pour a spoonful of olive oil into each glass."

Can you tell me what a biopsy is? Does it always mean cancer?

P. B. New Jersey

Dear Mr. B.: Biopsy is the removal of a small piece of tissue for microscopic study of its exact nature. Biopsies are performed in many different ways, depending on the location of the tissue or growth in question.

When the specimen is removed, it is immediately sent to the laboratory where it is carefully processed. The tissue is cut in the thinnest conceivable slices. Special dyes are then used to stain the intricate cell structure of the tissue.

Pathologists who examine this stained tissue are highly trained to recognize normal and abnormal cells. The report of their microscopic findings often determines the choice of medical, surgical or X-ray treatment for the patient's condition.

Biopsies do not necessarily mean cancer. Biopsies are an important additional test which, when added to all other diagnostic information, are helpful to the doctor in his complete evaluation of his patient's problem.

After an injury, my husband developed thrombosis of the leg. When he was almost recovered he got an embolism in his lung. How are these two conditions related?

Mrs. S.T. Illinois

Dear Mrs. T.: A severe injury to the leg almost always causes some damage to the blood vessels. When the inner lining of the blood vessels is injured, a clot, or thrombus, may form at this site, sometimes extending even beyond the point of injury. As the condition improves, the thrombus is absorbed and the blood vessel returns to its normal state. Occasionally, during the healing stage, a small piece of the thrombus, or clot, breaks off and is carried by the blood stream to a distant place — frequently, the lung.

Scientific research is actively progressing with the problem of thrombosis, and has already reported methods by which a thrombus can be prevented.

What is amyotrophic lateral sclerosis? Can it be related to being a house painter?

Mr. F. R. Indiana

Dear Mr. R.: Amyotrophic lateral sclerosis is a complex neurological disease related to others, such as progressive muscular atrophy and progressive bulbar palsy. The cause is not definitely known. Chronic lead poisoning, which occurs sometimes in painters, has been suspected, but not fully substantiated as a likely cause of amyotrophic lateral sclerosis.

But the disease is so uncommon that you probably have no cause for worry. As a house painter, you should have tests for chronic lead poisoning. It will alleviate your fears and anxiety about the hazards of your occupation.

A Winning Crusade

How many crusades have conservatives won in recent years? Checking over the list, one comes to some rather doleful conclusions. The battle to cut the waste out of foreign aid moves with all the rapidity of a Greenland glacier. The farm surpluses mount higher and higher. The talk of "peace" with the Soviets goes on, but Khrushchev's "technicians" still continue to increase their hold on Cuba. The U. S. International balance of payments situation goes from bad to worse.

However, amid all the catalogue of grief, one bright area emerges. Conservatives seem to be getting somewhere in their efforts to improve the quality of teaching in certain of our State public school systems.

This was brought home to me the other day when I listened in on some of the sessions of the Second Annual Reading Reform Foundation Conference at the Hotel Astor in New York. The Conference was staged by the Reading Reform Foundation, which is the brainchild of Watson Washburn, who will be remembered by sports fans as a First-Ten tennis player in the days when Big Bill Tilden and Little Bill Johnston were reigning stars of the courts. From the fundamentals of tennis to the fundamentals of reading and writing is something of a jump but Mr. Washburn put on a pretty good demonstration that his cause of reading reform is proposing in certain limited areas of the United States. In the Arizona school system, as in the public schools of Washington, D. C., the dreamy guess-work of the "look and say" or whole-word configuration method of teaching children to read is being replaced by the far more satisfactory system of drilling first and second grade classes in the forty odd basic sounds of English. The "phonics" system, the alphabetic and syllabic components of words instead of teaching each word as a separate "picture," enables young students to build up big vocabularies in short order.

The reading reformers had a lot of fun at the expense of "progressive" educators who believe in what Dr. Arthur S. Trace, author of "What Iwan Knows That Johnny Doesn't," calls "programmed retardation." Dr. Trace kept his audience at the Astor conference in stitches as he described the "progressive" system of "vocabulary control," which limits students to learning some 300 words a year during the first four grades. The vocabulary of a "basal" reader in the fourth grade of a "progressively" run public school, says Dr. Trace, "rarely exceeds 1,500 words — about one-fourth of a child's speaking vocabulary before he enters kindergarten."

This "programmed retardation," which has been a necessary by-product of the phonic drill as the basic method of reading instruction, means that educators can't put any worthwhile substance into school textbooks. In the old McGuffey type reader of the nineteenth century, a grammar school child might encounter speeches by Daniel Webster, Abraham Lincoln and Thomas Jefferson. We would get poetry by Longfellow and Whittier. But these items, which build a child's cultural and patriotic heritage in addition to introducing him to the pleasures of reading, can't be included in modern grammar school readers for the simple reason that statesmen such as Webster and poets such as Whittier used words that are excluded by modern "vocabulary control." Moreover, Webster, Lincoln, and Whittier failed to repeat their words four and five times in the same sentence. To satisfy the "progressive" demands for triple and quadruple repetition in a sentence, children have to submit to the "Dick and Jane" books, in which Jane says to Dick: "What a funny father we have, what a funny mother, what funny, funny things they do with funny Spot."

I left the Reading Reform Conference with the feeling that our still dominant school of educators regard most American children as being half-witted, partially blind, three-quarters deaf, emotionally disturbed, and glandularly deficient. But I was pleased to learn that Watson Washburn's proponents of common sense in education are taking over in Arizona and, to a lesser extent, in California. Too bad that the U. S. Department of Labor did not have some of its men listening in a the Hotel Astor. They might have discovered why the school drop-out problem increases from year to year. Children just can't wait to get away from the memory of those damnable bores, Dick and Jane, with their funny, funny parents and their funny, funny dog. And anyway, why stay in school if you haven't learned how to read?

When the specimen is removed, it is immediately sent to the laboratory where it is carefully processed. The tissue is cut in the thinnest conceivable slices. Special dyes are then used to stain the intricate cell structure of the tissue.

Pathologists who examine this stained tissue are highly trained to recognize normal and abnormal cells. The report of their microscopic findings often determines the choice of medical, surgical or X-ray treatment for the patient's condition.

Biopsies do not necessarily mean cancer. Biopsies are an important additional test which, when added to all other diagnostic information, are helpful to the doctor in his complete evaluation of his patient's problem.

After an injury, my husband developed thrombosis of the leg. When he was almost recovered he got an embolism in his lung. How are these two conditions related?

Mrs. S.T. Illinois

Dear Mrs. T.: A severe injury to the leg almost always causes some damage to the blood vessels. When the inner lining of the blood vessels is injured, a clot, or thrombus, may form at this site, sometimes extending even beyond the point of injury. As the condition improves, the thrombus is absorbed and the blood vessel returns to its normal state.

Occasionally, during the healing stage, a small piece of the thrombus, or clot, breaks off and is carried by the blood stream to a distant place — frequently, the lung.

Scientific research is actively progressing with the problem of thrombosis, and has already reported methods by which a thrombus can be prevented.

What is amyotrophic lateral sclerosis? Can it be related to being a house painter?

Mr. F. R. Indiana

Dear Mr. R.: Amyotrophic lateral sclerosis is a complex neurological disease related to others, such as progressive muscular atrophy and progressive bulbar palsy. The cause is not definitely known. Chronic lead poisoning, which occurs sometimes in painters, has been suspected, but not fully substantiated as a likely cause of amyotrophic lateral sclerosis.

But the disease is so uncommon that you probably have no cause for worry. As a house painter, you should have tests for chronic lead poisoning. It will alleviate your fears and anxiety about the hazards of your occupation.

A Winning Crusade

By John Chamberlain

How many crusades have conservatives won in recent years? Checking over the list, one comes to some rather doleful conclusions. The battle to cut the waste out of foreign aid moves with all the rapidity of a Greenland glacier. The farm surpluses mount higher and higher. The talk of "peace" with the Soviets goes on, but Khrushchev's "technicians" still continue to increase their hold on Cuba. The U. S. International balance of payments situation goes from bad to worse.

However, amid all the catalogue of grief, one bright area emerges. Conservatives seem to be getting somewhere in their efforts to improve the quality of teaching in certain of our State public school systems.

This was brought home to me the other day when I listened in on some of the sessions of the Second Annual Reading Reform Foundation Conference at the Hotel Astor in New York. The Conference was staged by the Reading Reform Foundation, which is the brainchild of Watson Washburn, who will be remembered by sports fans as a First-Ten tennis player in the days when Big Bill Tilden and Little Bill Johnston were reigning stars of the courts. From the fundamentals of tennis to the fundamentals of reading and writing is something of a jump but Mr. Washburn put on a pretty good demonstration that his cause of reading reform is proposing in certain limited areas of the United States. In the Arizona school system, as in the public schools of Washington, D. C., the dreamy guess-work of the "look and say" or whole - word configuration method of teaching children to read is being replaced by the far more satisfactory system of drilling first and second grade classes in the forty - odd basic sounds of English. The "phonetic" system, the alphabetic and syllabic components of words instead of teaching each word as a separate "picture," enables young students to build up big vocabularies in short order.

The reading reformers had a lot of fun at the expense of "progressive" educators who believe in what Dr. Arthur S. Trace, author of "What Ivan Knows That Johnny Doesn't," calls "programmed retardation." Dr. Trace kept his audience at the Astor conference in stitches as he described the "progressive" system of "vocabulary control," which limits students to learning some 300 words a year during the first four grades. The vocabulary of a "basal" reader in the fourth grade of a "progressively" run public school, says Dr. Trace, "rarely exceeds 1,500 words — about one - fourth of a child's speaking vocabulary before he enters kindergarten."

This "programmed retardation," which has been made necessary by the abandonment of phonic drill as the basic method of reading instruction, means that educators can't put any worthwhile substance into school textbooks. In the old McGuffey type reader of the nineteenth century, a grammar school child might encounter speeches by Daniel Webster, Abraham Lincoln and "Thomas Jefferson. We would get poetry by Longfellow and Whittier. But these items, which build a child's cultural and patriotic heritage in addition to introducing him to the pleasures of reading, can't be included in modern grammar school readers for the simple reason that statesmen such as Webster and poets such as Whittier used words that are excluded by modern "vocabulary control." Moreover, Webster, Lincoln, and Whittier failed to repeat their words four and five times in the same sentence. To satisfy the "progressive" demands for triple and quadruple repetition in a sentence, children have to submit to the "Dick and Jane" books, in which Jane says to Dick: "What a funny father we have, what a funny mother, what funny, funny things they do with funny Spot."

I left the Reading Reform Conference with the feeling that our still dominant school of educators regard most American children as being half - witted, partially blind, three-quarters deaf, emotionally disturbed, and glandularly deficient. But I was pleased to learn that Watson Washburn's proponents of common sense in education are taking over in Arizona and, to a lesser extent, in California. Too bad that the U. S. Department of Labor did not have some of its men listening in at the Hotel Astor. They might have discovered why the school drop - out problem increases from year to year. Children just can't wait to get away from the memory of those damnable bores, Dick and Jane, with their funny, funny parents and their funny, funny dog. And anyway, why stay in school if you haven't learned how to read?

Miss Kroner, Mr. Hammel Are Married in Indiana

MRS. DAVID HAMMEL

Miss Marilyn Ann Kroner, daughter of Mrs. Harvey Kroner and the late Mr. Kroner of Sunman, Ind., and Mr. Howard David Hammel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hammel, 531 S. Court St., were united in marriage Aug. 4, in St. John Lutheran Church, Sunman.

The Rev. Paul W. Frey read the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with white gladioli and lighted tapers. Miss Eve Meyer was the organist.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, William Kroner, was attired in a gown of white lace and slipper satin, featuring a scalloped bateau neckline and long sleeves which tapered to points. Her bouffant veil showered from a crown of pearlized orange blossoms highlighted by iridescent rhinestones. She carried a cascade arrangement of white, daisy-centered pom-pom mums and ivy.

The bride chose as her attendants, Mrs. Robert McCrady, sister of the groom, as matron of honor and Mrs. Richard Loffer as bridesmaid. They were identically attired in ocean green satapeaux dresses with scalloped, tiered skirts. The street-length dresses featured round necklines and short sleeves. The attendants' headpieces were matching small veil hats. They carried bouquets of daisies with yellow ribbons from which ivy cascaded.

The bridegroom chose as his best man, his brother-in-law, Robert McCrady. Guests were seated by Richard Loffer of Piqua, and George Weller of Circleville, Ohio. All wore white dinner jackets.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Kroner chose a navy blue dress with blue accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore a dress of beige with white accessories. Each wore a pink sweetheart rose corsage.

The recently wedded couple will reside in Great Falls, Montana where Mr. Hammel, a graduate of Capital University, will serve for one year under the auspices of the Evangelical Lutheran Theological Seminary. The new Mrs. Hammel, also a graduate of Capital University, will be teaching in the Great Falls Public Schools.

Miss Adrienne Block Weds Mr. Orley Bosworth July 28

MRS. ORLEY R. BOSWORTH

Miss Adrienne Block, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Block, 1331 Hamlin Place, Columbus, became the bride of Mr. Orley R. Bosworth, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Alfred W. Bosworth, Route 4, at 11 a. m. July 28 in the Temple Israel, Columbus.

Dr. Jerome Folkman officiated at the single ring ceremony.

The bride wore a street-length gown of ivory peau de soie, fashioned with a scoop neckline, outlined with Alencon lace appliques and seed pearls, and three-quarter length sleeves. Lace appliques accented the bell skirt. A lace crown held her shoulder-length veil and she wore a wrist corsage of white carnations.

Mr. Thomas Wells, Circleville, served as best man.

Mrs. Block chose for her daughter's wedding, a blue print dress styled with a sweetheart neckline. Her corsage was white carnations.

A reception was held in the home of the bride's parents.

For a wedding trip to Cave Lake and Southern Ohio the new Mrs. Bosworth wore a yellow coat dress.

The couple is now residing in Washington Twp.

Mrs. Bosworth is a graduate of Ohio State University and is a reporter for The Associated Press, Columbus.

Mr. Bosworth, a 1952 graduate of Walnut Twp. High School, is a National and Ohio Press Photographer and proprietor of Beaver Studio.

St. Paul Youth Group Meets

The St. Paul EUB Youth Fellowship held its monthly meeting Thursday evening in the home of the Rev. Maurice Bailey.

A supper was served outside by Rev. and Mrs. Bailey before the business meeting.

This includes study meetings on Sunday evenings plus the present monthly meetings. The first joint meeting is to be held on Aug. 29.

The group decided to sell greeting cards.

The meeting closed as Rev. Bailey read from the first chapter of John.

Attending were Ronnie Agin, Debbie Ankrom, Rosetta Hamilton, Ricky Rawlins, Elaine Rawlins, Jimmie Lands, Jimmie Moorehead, Bob Lands, Lionel Lindsey, Orville Grady, and Jewell Hinton. Guests were Mary Kathryn Lands, Keith Lands, and Rev. Bailey and his wife.

DEB SHOP CHATTER

Recently we ran across a bit of philosophy which we would like to share with you.

A man was discussing his relationship with his neighbor, and he said: "There is NOTHING I would not do for my neighbor... there is NOTHING he would not do for me... consequently we go through life doing nothing for each other."

There is a trite old saying in the ready-to-wear business... "This does nothing for me." Well, you will find the fashion picture changed this year. Something can and will be done for you: just you stop at THE DEB SHOP for a look at the new styles.

You will see a look of casual in daytime clothes, a feeling of city which smacks of the country; for evenings in and out... femininity at its very greatest, fake furs — that look more beautiful than real, much fashion with fur; the significant ski look — with hoods an everything, coats, jackets, blouses... you will really get a "lift" whether or not you ski; waistlines wander... you may look high or low for them and maybe not at all.

Wesuits and vests are made of suede and leather; the Go-coat is a little longer than short and has real or fake fur, like a wedding ring collar. Bulky sweaters have suede trimming and big patches on the elbow, with matching trim on a flannel skirt. You will wear a jumper of wool or double-knit, you will wear a smart shirt with it to the office, and for after-five you will discard the shirt and wear it as a date dress...

Many versions of the great looks are in stock right now... come see them tomorrow. If you do not find what you want for now, let us know your needs; we will call you when they come in. Shop... for the newest... at THE DEB SHOP — ad

MRS. DAVID HAMMEL

Miss Marilyn Ann Kroner, daughter of Mrs. Harvey Kroner and the late Mr. Kroner of Sunman, Ind., and Mr. Howard David Hammel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hammel, 531 S. Court St., were united in marriage Aug. 4, in St. John Lutheran Church, Sunman.

The Rev. Paul W. Frey read the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with white gladioli and lighted tapers. Miss Evelyn Meister was the organist.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, William Kroner, was attired in a gown of white lace and slipper satin, featuring a scalloped batwing neckline and long sleeves which tapered to points. Her bouffant veil showered from a crown of pearls and orange blossoms highlighted by iridescent rhinestones. She carried a cascade arrangement of white, daisy-centered pom-pom mums and ivy.

The bride chose as her attendants, Mrs. Robert McCrady, sister of the groom, as matron of honor and Mrs. Richard Loffer as bridesmaid. They were identically attired in ocean green satapeaux dress with scalloped, tiered skirts. The street-length dresses featured round necklines and short sleeves. The attendants' headpieces were matching small veil hats. They carried bouquets of daisies with yellow ribbons from which ivy cascaded.

The bridegroom chose as his best man, his brother-in-law, Robert McCrady. Guests were seated by Richard Loffer of Piqua, and George Weller of Circleville, Ohio. All wore white dinner jackets.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Kroner chose a navy blue dress with blue accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore a dress of beige with white accessories. Each wore a pink sweetheart rose corsage.

The recently wedded couple will reside in Great Falls, Montana where Mr. Hammel, a graduate of Capital University, will serve for one year under the auspices of the Evangelical Lutheran Theological Seminary. The new Mrs. Hammel, also a graduate of Capital University, will be teaching in the Great Falls Public Schools.

Miss Adrienne Block Weds Mr. Orley Bosworth July 28

MRS. ORLEY R. BOSWORTH

Miss Adrienne Block, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Block, 1331 Hamlin Place, Columbus, became the bride of Mr. Orley R. Bosworth, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Alfred W. Bosworth, Route 4, at 11 a. m. July 28 in the Temple Israel, Columbus.

Dr. Jerome Folkman officiated at the single ring ceremony.

The bride wore a street length gown of ivory peau de soie, fashioned with a scoop neckline, outlined with Alencon lace appliques and seed pearls, and three-quarter length sleeves. Lace appliques accented the bell skirt. A lace crown held her shoulder-length veil and she wore a wrist corsage of white carnations.

Mr. Thomas Wells, Circleville, served as best man.

Mrs. Block chose for her daughter's wedding, a blue print dress styled with a sweetheart neckline. Her corsage was white carnations.

A reception was held in the home of the bride's parents.

For a wedding trip to Cave Lake and Southern Ohio the new Mrs. Bosworth wore a yellow coat dress.

The couple is now residing in Washington Twp.

Mrs. Bosworth is a graduate of Ohio State University and is a reporter for The Associated Press, Columbus.

Mr. Bosworth, a 1952 graduate of Walnut Twp. High School, is a National and Ohio Press Photographer and proprietor of Beaver Studio.

OSU 'Sparking' Lot Due for Policing

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A "sparking" lot on the Ohio State University campus — known to OSU students for years as a spot to take their girls "to watch the submarine races" on the Olentangy River — is coming under tighter control of university officials.

Campus police and the sheriff's office are planning to close the area to parking late at night and in the early morning hours.

In numbers, parkers in the past have found safety — with exceptions—but campus police say they have received many complaints from citizens and alumni against the parkers. The sheriff's office reported there have been instances in the past when "shakedown artists" have accosted couples in cars, flashing false badges and taking a man's valuables for silence.

2 Firemen Die As Propane Gas Explodes

CLEVELAND (AP) — A tank truck carrying 50 to 100 gallons of propane gas turned into a bomb that killed two firemen, injured 20 other persons and reduced the Avis Rent-A-Truck Co. at 1204 Carnegie Ave. to rubble Tuesday.

Firemen from two nearby companies were called to the building on a report that the truck, inside the building for servicing, was leaking propane gas from a valve.

The firefighters had just entered the evacuated building when one of them spotted a flame. A fire hose had just been turned on the truck, and Lt. Edwin J. Hart, 65, of South Euclid was approaching the vehicle to determine the source of the leak. A number of firemen yelled to get out of the building, but the gas exploded before all could get out.

Hart, a veteran of 36 years in the department, was killed. Also killed was John T. McKenna, 26, father of four young children who was approaching the building when the blast came.

Five firemen were among the 20 injured taken to St. Vincent Charity Hospital. Nine persons remained in the hospital Tuesday night most of them with minor cuts and bruises. Ten others were released after treatment.

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

An extensive high pressure area will move southeastward bringing most of Ohio fair cool weather through Thursday.

It will be rather windy again today especially in the northeast counties, and afternoon temperatures will be mostly in the 70s.

Low readings tonight will be in the upper 40s north and the 50s elsewhere.

OHIO FIVE DAYS FORECASTS
SOUTHERN & CENTRAL OHIO —Temperatures will average about seven degrees below normal. Normal high 83-86, normal low 60-64. Cool through Monday except for briefly warmer near end of week. Rainfall on the weekend will total a fourth inch or less.

NORTHERN OHIO — Temperatures will average six to nine degrees below normal. Normal high 79-82, normal low 59-64. Cool, dry through Friday, warmer over weekend, cooler Monday. Rainfall will average one-half inch in scattered showers first of week.

Dear Abby:

by Abigail Van Buren

For the Birds!

DEAR ABBY: You had a letter in your column recently from a woman who thought that the practice of parakeets flying over the dinner table at mealtime was unsanitary. And you agreed with her! Abby, I thought you were supposed to be a pretty hep gal. Haven't you ever heard of Parakeet Diapers? They are made of washable jersey and come in three sizes. Small, medium and large. They will not hamper birds in flight and are designed with a comfortable halter neck so the birds can't lose them. This is no gag, and I don't sell them. But I've bought them.

FRED IN ALBANY

DEAR FRED: Now I've heard everything!

DEAR ABBY: This may not seem very important to you, but I want to know how to follow through on something that has bothered me for a long time. I am considered a good-looking young man, but my ears stand out, away from my head, to a very noticeable degree. I have read that some movie actors have been operated on to have this defect corrected. Is it dangerous? Is it expensive? And where can I get an operation of this kind?

DUMBO

DEAR DUMBO: Surgery is always "dangerous" unless performed

by an expert. I don't know how "expensive" it is, but you can get all the information you want by asking your family doctor to refer you to a plastic surgeon.

DEAR ABBY: My husband has always been quite well-to-do. Our daughter wanted to marry a 27 year-old man of whom we did not approve. She was too young to marry without our consent and we forbade her to do so. The day she became of age they went to City Hall and were married. We told her we never wanted to see her again. We got our wish. It has been nine years since we have seen her. And we have never seen our two grandchildren. We never realized that in making such a threat we would be the ones to pay. Please print this for parents who might be tempted to keep apart two people who really love each other.

SORRY

DEAR SORRY: Are you saying that parents should set aside their better judgment when an underage daughter announces she wants to marry? True you shouldn't have said you never wanted to see her again. THAT was your mistake. NOT forbidding your daughter to marry a man of whom you disapproved. Quit punishing yourself. Make an effort to see your daughter. One of these days she'll realize that she is being foolish, too.

Federal Employee Pay Hike Urged

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chairman of the Civil Service Commission has told Congress it owed federal employees a pay raise to bring their salaries up to those in private industry.

John W. Macy Jr. urged enactment of a bill carrying out a provision of last year's Salary Reform Act calling for an annual adjustment of federal salaries to keep them aligned with private ones.

President Kennedy has proposed increases averaging 3.2 per cent for postal workers and 4.7 per cent for classified employees for a total of $500 million.

Announcement of Truman's appearance was made Tuesday by Howard M. Mettenbaum, general chairman of the dinner committee. About 1,500 guests are expected.

OSU 'Sparking' Lot Due for Policing

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A "sparking" lot on the Ohio State University campus — known to OSU students for years as a spot to take their girls "to watch the submarine races" on the Olentangy River — is coming under tighter control of university officials.

Campus police and the sheriff's office are planning to close the area to parking late at night and in the early morning hours.

In numbers, parkers in the past have found safety — with exceptions — but campus police say they have received many complaints from citizens and alumni against the parkers. The sheriff's office reported there have been instances in the past when "shakedown artists" have accosted couples in cars, flashing false badges and taking a man's valuables for silence.

2 Firemen Die As Propane Gas Explodes

CLEVELAND (AP) — A tank truck carrying 50 to 100 gallons of propane gas turned into a bomb that killed two firemen, injured 20 other persons and reduced the Avis Rent-A-Truck Co. at 1204 Carnegie Ave. to rubble Tuesday.

Firemen from two nearby companies were called to the building on a report that the truck, inside the building for servicing, was leaking propane gas from a valve.

The firefighters had just entered the evacuated building when one of them spotted a flame. A fire hose had just been turned on the truck, and Lt. Edwin J. Hart, 65, of South Euclid was approaching the vehicle to determine the source of the leak. A number of firemen yelled to get out of the building, but the gas exploded before all could get out.

Hart, a veteran of 36 years in the department, was killed. Also killed was John T. McKenna, 26, father of four young children who was approaching the building when the blast came.

Five firemen were among the 20 injured taken to St. Vincent Charity Hospital. Nine persons remained in the hospital Tuesday night most of them with minor cuts and bruises. Ten others were released after treatment.

Dear Abby:

by Abigail Van Buren

For the Birds!

DEAR ABBY: You had a letter in your column recently from a woman who thought that the practice of parakeets flying over the dinner table at mealtime was unsanitary. And you agreed with her! Abby, I thought you were supposed to be a pretty hep gal. Haven't you ever heard of Parakeet Diapers? They are made of washable jersey and come in three sizes. Small, medium and large. They will not hamper birds in flight and are designed with a comfortable halter neck so the birds can't lose them. This is no gag, and I don't sell them. But I've bought them.

FRED IN ALBANY
DEAR FRED: Now I've heard everything!

DEAR ABBY: This may not seem very important to you, but I want to know how to follow through on something that has bothered me for a long time. I am considered a good-looking young man, but my ears stand out, away from my head, to a very noticeable degree. I have read that some movie actors have been operated on to have this defect corrected. Is it dangerous? Is it expensive? And where can I get an operation of this kind?

DUMBO
DEAR DUMBO: Surgery is always "dangerous" unless performed

by an expert. I don't know how "expensive" it is, but you can get all the information you want by asking your family doctor to refer you to a plastic surgeon.

DEAR ABBY: My husband has always been quite well-to-do. Our daughter wanted to marry a 27 year-old man of whom we did not approve. She was too young to marry without our consent and we forbade her to do so. The day she became of age they went to City Hall and were married. We told her we never wanted to see her again. We got our wish. It has been nine years since we have seen her. And we have never seen our two grandchildren. We never realized that in making such a threat we would be the ones to pay. Please print this for parents who might be tempted to keep apart two people who really love each other.

DEAR SORRY: Are you saying that parents should set aside their better judgment when an underage daughter announces she wants to marry? True you shouldn't have said you never wanted to see her again. THAT was your mistake. NOT forbidding your daughter to marry a man of whom you disapproved. Quit punishing yourself. Make an effort to see your daughter. One of these days she'll realize that she is being foolish, too.

Federal Employee Pay Hike Urged

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chairman of the Civil Service Commission has told Congress it owed federal employees a pay raise to bring their salaries up to those in private industry.

John W. Macy Jr. urged enactment of a bill carrying out a provision of last year's Salary Reform Act calling for an annual adjustment of federal salaries to keep them aligned with private ones.

President Kennedy has proposed increases averaging 3.2 per cent for postal workers and 4.7 per cent for classified employees for a total of $500 million.

A honeybee visits just the plants of one species on a foraging trip.

Truman To Address Tribute to Young

CLEVELAND (AP) — Former President Harry S. Truman is scheduled to give the main address at an appreciation dinner here Sept. 14 for Sen. Stephen M. Young, D-Ohio.

Announcement of Truman's appearance was made Tuesday by Howard M. Mettenbaum, general chairman of the dinner committee. About 1,500 guests are expected.

Clyde Company Sold

FREMONT, Ohio (AP) — Toledo Paper Box Co. has bought the Clyde Cutlery in Clyde for an undisclosed sum. The announcement Tuesday said a modernization program is planned for the plant, which employs 65 persons.

An extensive high pressure area will move southeastward bringing most of Ohio fair cool weather through Thursday.

It will be rather windy again today especially in the northeast counties, and afternoon temperatures will be mostly in the 70s. Low readings tonight will be in the upper 40s north and the 50s elsewhere.

OHIO FIVE DAYS FORECASTS

Chillicothe, Adena Areas Offer Interesting Day for Visitors

EDITOR'S NOTE: With cooperation of the Ross - Highland Automobile Club, the Columbus Auto Club suggests this "Trip of the Week," for readers of The Herald.

Next week's trip will be to "the Switzerland of Ohio."

Chillicothe, Ohio's first capital from 1803 to 1810, and nearby Adena offer an interesting day in late summer or early autumn.

Adena is a restoration of the home of Ohio's sixth governor, Thomas Worthington, built in 1806-07. Landscaping around this stone mansion of Georgian architecture is patterned after the original garden. Furnishings are authentic antiques of the period.

"Adena," Worthington recorded in his diary, is a word of Hebrew origin, meaning "places remarkable for the delightfulness of their situations."

Adena is one of many historical attractions in and near Chillicothe. Another is Mound City National Monument, a 67 acre tract which includes 24 prehistoric burial mounds enclosed within a low earth embankment.

Interpretative displays are presented in a museum. Picnic facilities are available.

Within the city itself, another recommended stop is the Ross County Historical Museum, considered one of the best in southern Ohio. Within the museum are exhibits of pioneer crafts and rifle-making, historical materials on the Moundbuilders, and Ohio's "constitution table." Rooms have authentic furnishings of Ohio's pioneer days.

Also to be seen in Chillicothe are historic old mansions, many of early nineteenth century construction in the Greek revival style.

The Columbus Auto Club suggests this routing to reach Chillicothe from Circleville: U. S. 23 to Chillicothe; U. S. 35 to the Adena State Memorial.

PALESTINE, Tex. (AP)—An 85-foot-tall balloon went up Tuesday to gather meteorite particles at feet.

The ascent from the National Balloon Flight Station here in east Texas began at 6 a.m. (CST).

Dudey Observatory in Albany, N.Y., sponsored the experiment, which was timed to coincide with this year's heaviest meteor shower.

Health Care OKd By Most States

CHICAGO (AP)—While President Kennedy's proposal to place health care for the aged under Social Security still is awaiting a showdown, most states have acted to provide health care for elderly residents who can't afford to pay their medical bills.

A survey by the American Medical Association shows that more than two-thirds of the states have adopted Kerr-Mills programs to aid near indigents and that all states now are using Kerr-Mills funds for the medical needs of their recipients of old age assistance.

Thirteen states have acted affirmatively on Kerr-Mills bills since June 1, 1962. The survey also showed a number of states with Kerr-Mills programs in operation have made the benefits available to persons with higher incomes or have expanded the benefits offered.

The Kerr-Mills law became effective Oct. 1, 1960. It is a federal-state fund matching program designed for medically needy persons who have reached their 65th birthday.

The American Medical Association supports the Kerr-Mills program. It contends the legislation can supply assistance to all indigent or near indigent persons who need it, if the states implement the federal legislation.

The Kennedy administration contends the Kerr Mills program does not offer sufficient benefits and wants to make medical assistance available to all persons who retire and receive social security payments.

The AMA survey covered 54 jurisdictions—the 50 states, the District of Columbia and the territories of Guam and Puerto Rico. It showed:

Old age assistance programs under Kerr-Mills are in effect in all 54 jurisdictions. This provision authorizes the federal government to match state funds used exclusively for payments for medical services up to a combined total of $12 a month above the previous $65 monthly maximum.

A total of 42 jurisdictions have enacted legislation to provide medical assistance for the aged for near indigent persons not on old age assistance rolls.

These programs are in effect in 34 jurisdictions, five other jurisdictions have adopted programs effective at later dates and three others have approved programs without appropriating funds.

The 12 states which have not adopted them are Alaska, Arizona, Colorado, Delaware, Indiana, Mississippi, Missouri, Montana, Ohio, Rhode Island, Texas and Wisconsin.

Mail Robbery Still Mystery

Probers Fail To Find $1 1/2 Million Loot

PLYMOUTH, Mass. (AP) — A year ago today, a well-rehearsed band of white-gloved shotgun bandits held up a small U.S. mail truck in this historic town and made off with the nation's biggest cash haul—$1,551,277.

The only thing to top it in the world was the estimated more than $7 million taken last week from a train at Cheddington, England, by a well-drilled gang of about 30 masked men.

For a full year, a crew of postal inspectors—sometimes 60, and as many as 75—has worked on the Plymouth case. To date, none of the money has been found.

William F. White, chief New England postal inspector, is in charge of the dogged pursuit of the bandits. He is a patient man. He makes it clear that he cannot divulge all the information the inspectors have uncovered.

He did say this: Investigators have made progress; they have solid suspects. He has "the highest hopes the case will be solved before the second anniversary."

White takes pride in pointing out that the postal service has a record of 99 per cent convictions.

Only witnesses to the robbery were the victims—Phillip Schena driver of the truck, and guard Patrick Barrett. They were headed for the Federal Reserve Bank in Boston with money picked up from Cape Cod banks.

At the outset, White said he believed the gang consisted of five men and a woman. A year later he said the question of whether a woman was involved is still open to discussion. Reward money totaling $200,000 has been offered by various agencies.

The biggest previous cash robbery in the United States was the 1950 Brink's heist in Boston. The loot then was $1,219,000. Eight men are serving life for it.

Chillicothe, Ohio's first capital from 1803 to 1810, and nearby Adena offer an interesting day in late summer or early autumn.

Adena is a restoration of the home of Ohio's sixth governor, Thomas Worthington, built in 1806-07. Landscaping around this stone mansion of Georgian architecture is patterned after the original garden. Furnishings are authentic antiques of the period.

"Adena," Worthington recorded in his diary, is a word of Hebrew origin, meaning "places remarkable for the delightfulness of their situations."

Adena is one of many historical attractions in and near Chillicothe. Another is Mound City National Monument, a 67-acre tract which includes 24 prehistoric burial mounds enclosed within a low earth embankment.

Interpretative displays are presented in a museum. Picnic facilities are available.

Within the city itself, another recommended stop is the Ross County Historical Museum, considered one of the best in southern Ohio. Within the museum are exhibits of pioneer crafts and rifle-making, historical materials on the Moundbuilders, and Ohio's "constitution table." Rooms have authentic furnishings of Ohio's pioneer days.

Also to be seen in Chillicothe are historic old mansions, many of early nineteenth century construction in the Greek revival style.

The Columbus Auto Club suggests this routing to reach Chillicothe from Circleville: U. S. 23 to Chillicothe; U. S. 35 to the Adena State Memorial.

Meteor Particles Sought by Science

PALESTINE, Tex. (AP)—An 85-foot-tall balloon went up Tuesday to gather meteorite particles at feet.

The ascent from the National Balloon Flight Station here in east Texas began at 6 a.m. (CST).

John Sparkman, station manager, said early stages of flight were satisfactory.

Dudley Observatory in Albany, N.Y., sponsored the experiment, which was timed to coincide with this year's heaviest meteor shower.

Health Care OK'd By Most States

CHICAGO (AP) — While President Kennedy's proposal to place health care for the aged under Social Security still is awaiting a showdown, most states have acted to provide health care for elderly residents who can't afford to pay their medical bills.

A survey by the American Medical Association shows that more than two-thirds of the states have adopted Kerr-Mills programs to aid near indigents and that all states now are using Kerr-Mills funds for the medical needs of their recipients of old age assistance.

Thirteen states have acted affirmatively on Kerr-Mills bills since June 1, 1962.

The survey also showed a number of states with Kerr-Mills programs in operation have made the benefits available to persons with higher incomes or have expanded the benefits offered.

The Kerr-Mills law became effective Oct. 1, 1960. It is a federal-state fund matching program designed for medically needy persons who have reached their 65th birthday.

The American Medical Association supports the Kerr-Mills program. It contends the legislation can supply assistance to all indigent or near indigent persons who need it, if the states implement the federal legislation.

The Kennedy administration contends the Kerr Mills program does not offer sufficient benefits and wants to make medical assistance available to all persons who retire and receive social security payments.

The AMA survey covered 54 jurisdictions — the 50 states, the District of Columbia and the territories of Guam and Puerto Rico. It showed:

Old age assistance programs under Kerr-Mills are in effect in all 54 jurisdictions. This provision authorizes the federal government to match state funds used exclusively for payments for medical services up to a combined total of $12 a month above the previous $65 monthly maximum.

A total of 42 jurisdictions have enacted legislation to provide medical assistance for the aged for near indigent persons not on old age assistance rolls.

These programs are in effect in 34 jurisdictions, five other jurisdictions have adopted programs effective at later dates and three others have approved programs without appropriating funds.

The 12 states which have not adopted them are Alaska, Arizona, Colorado, Delaware, Indiana, Mississippi, Missouri, Montana, Ohio, Rhode Island, Texas and Wisconsin.

Congo Premier Is Battling Country's Shaky Economy

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Premier Cyrille Adoula was in a financial jam when he went to Europe for economic talks. He has returned to find himself still between the devil and the deep blue sea.

The devil is the specter of national bankruptcy from runaway inflation and massive government over-spending. The alternative is a devaluation of the Congo franc. This is being urged on Adoula by international experts.

A long-standing problem became urgent three weeks ago. The United States, the Congo's main source of aid, suspended two important items of aid in July in an attempt to force through reforms.

These items were money to finance the import of consumer goods to fill yawning gaps on the shelves of Congo shops and money for public works projects. Last year these accounted for nearly half the $73 million the United States poured into the Congo.

Experts say the current exchange rate of 65 Congo francs to the dollar is unrealistic. Some advocate a devaluation of up to 500 per cent for some imports. They say the present rate penalizes exporters, favors importers and encourages smuggling.

This is costing the Congo millions of dollars a year. Diamonds, coffee, tea, rubber, cotton and palm oil are being shipped across wide-open frontiers while customs men are bribed to look the other way.

Some importers have been smuggling out goods bought cheaply abroad with foreign exchange from the Congo's paper-thin reserves and selling them in neighboring countries where they fetch high prices in hard currency.

There has also been brisk illicit trafficking in surplus food donated by the United States to feed hungry Congolese. American officials here tear their hair at the sight of this food in Brazzaville, capital of the former French Congo.

This smuggling was one of the reasons for the cuts in aid, although shiploads of food are still arriving.

Most experts are agreed that a devaluation, accompanied by other reforms, must come quickly if this drain on the Congo's economic strength is to be halted before the country bleeds to death.

But government over-spending is likely to hit 17 billion Congo francs—about $260 million—this year, according to some experts. And internal prices have risen 300 per cent since 1960.

Informed sources said Belgium agreed in talks with Adoula to assume responsibility for almost half of the Congo's debt of 46 billion francs.

These sources said Belgium would take over the bulk of the foreign debt of 26 billion francs while the Congo would take charge of the rest.

Rhodes Gives His Views on State Library

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—"I don't know of anybody who is advocating abolishment of the state library," Gov. James A. Rhodes asserted Tuesday.

"I know some people who are concerned with waste and duplication in the library as in other departments," the governor told newsmen.

He commented on reports that the state library in the Ohio Department Bldg. here would become a target of the "Little Hoover" commission surveying government operations. Commission reports are due next month.

"There has been no report from the commission concerning the library," Rhodes said. He asserted that if the reports show that the library or any other department is duplicating work, "it has to stop."

He stressed that public hearings would be held before acting on any substantial recommendations.

"We probably have one of the best state library systems of any state in the union," Rhodes said. He added that he did not know how reports that it might be abolished got started.

The governor said that as a result of a widely circulated letter by an attorney for the Library Board, he wrote saying that "there will be ample opportunity for interested citizens to make their views known before any change is made."

Rhodes referred to a letter by Atty. Norton Webster of Columbus asserting that any closing would be "book burning in the guise of economy."

"I don't think it is the wish of the commission to destroy any essential part of state government—they are concerned with waste and extravagance," Rhodes said in closing a news conference.

7 Youths Face Lawsuit for Aerial Bomb

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — A new sequence has begun in the tragedy of Kettering Fairmont High School's 1963 Commencement Day. Mark F. Wilkus, 15, suffered permanent disability May 30 when an aerial bomb, launched just as he bent over to examine the rocket apparatus, blasted him in face and head.

Seven other youths, 18-year-olds who graduated that day, were named by Mark's father, Robert, in a $350,000 damage suit Monday in Montgomery County Common Pleas Court. Three already were awaiting action in Kettering Municipal Court on police charges.

Geauga County Lawyers Rap Judge's Race

CHARDON, Ohio (AP) — The Geauga County Bar Association has passed a resolution protesting the candidacy of County Judge Carl Hofstetter, who has new Chardon Municipal Court.

Hofstetter of Middlefield holds the filed petitions for judge of the one of the two county court posts that will be eliminated when the Municipal Court begins operation. The other county court is at Chardon.

The bar Association decided Monday night to protest Judge Hofstetter's candidacy on the grounds he is not an attorney and thus does not meet requirements established by the state legislature for the $7,500-a-year municipal judgeship. Judge Hofstetter, a Democrat and brother of county Prosecutor Edwin Hofstetter, has presided at Middlefield since that court was set up five years ago.

When he filed petitions with the Board of Elections for municipal judge the board asked the secretary of state for an opinion on whether it should accept the petitions. The secretary of state ruled the petitions must be accepted. Any questions raised concerning qualifications would be settled later.

Hofstetter said in view of his experience on the county court he felt he was fully qualified for the Municipal Court job. Neither court has jurisdiction over felony cases. On money actions, the county court is limited to cases not exceeding $500 and the Municipal Court will be limited to cases not exceeding $500.

TODAY In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Wednesday, Aug. 14, the 226th day of 1963. There are 139 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1945 World War II came to an end when Japan surrendered unconditionally. Cease fire orders were issued five days after the United States dropped an atomic bomb on the Japanese city of Nagasaki and eight days after history's first A-bomb fell on Hiroshima.

On this date In 1848 Oregon was organized as a territory.

In 1925 President Franklin D. Roosevelt signed the Social Security Act.

In 1941, the Atlantic Charter was signed by President Roosevelt and British Prime Minister Winston Churchill.

In 1947, the United States canceled approximately $1 billion in debts owed by Italy.

Ten years ago, U.S. wheat farmers voted 7-1 for continued government acreage controls and a year's extension of 90 per cent parity price support.

Five years ago, A New York-bound KLM Royal Dutch airliner with 99 aboard, including 51 Americans, crashed into the stormy Atlantic Ocean about 130 miles off the Irish coast.

One year ago, The largest cash robbery on record in the United States took place near Plymouth, Mass., when five or six men and a woman held up a mail truck and escaped with more than $1.6 million.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—Washington is in a slow swirl, psychologically and politically.

It waits for the massive civil rights demonstration Aug. 28, hoping that whole memorable day will go off peacefully.

Negotiations between railroads and unions are stalemated. Unless some way is found to stop it, there will be a railroad strike. The arrival and departure of one day, even if everything is peaceful will be an unforgettable burden.

But to have the demonstration followed the next day by a rail strike would be piling climax on climax.

While the city waits Congress, bubbling along at the slowest pace in years, continues to drag its feet and may be here until the end of the year.

The center of this quiet stage is occupied now, and will be for a couple of weeks, by Senate hearings on the limited nuclear test-ban treaty.

That treaty, once approved, could be a fiendish embarrassment to the Kennedy administration if the Russians then try tricks to American disadvantage.

If nothing goes wrong, it will be an asset to President Kennedy in seeking re-election. If it goes wrong it will be an issue in the 1964 campaign.

The administration, conscious of both possibilities, acknowledges risk but insists the treaty's advantages outweigh the disadvantages.

The two most likely Republican presidential candidates as of now—New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and Arizona's Sen. Barry Goldwater—are conscious of the for and against possibilities too.

Both have provided themselves an "I told you so" if the treaty proves a dud.

The treaty has wide popular support, it seems sure to pass the Senate by a wide margin, and

Screening Of Securities Aides Urged

CHICAGO (AP) — Milton H. Cohen, who directed a special government study of stock markets, says that the setting of standards for persons entering the securities industry would provide a foundation for realistic regulation.

In a speech before the American Bar Association convention, Cohen said the "first imperative need" is that those entering the business be adequately qualified in knowledge, integrity and financial capacity.

The Chicago attorney directed a 65-man staff which delved into various phases of the industry for almost two years. The third and final installment of a 13-volume report was delivered to the Securities and Exchange Commission last week.

Cohen urged the attorneys to support legislation which would set standards for persons entering the securities business, and would bring a large number of unlisted stocks under the jurisdiction of the SEC.

neither Rockefeller nor Goldwater has come out against it.

Rockefeller, in fact has suggested it be approved but then he added a list warning of things to look out for.

But most of the things he warned about already had been discussed in one way or another by the administration.

For instance he said this country should "pursue research and development in the vital area of antimissile defense."

He said that Sunday, Aug. 11. But on Aug. 1 at his news conference Kennedy said developing an antimissile missile is "beyond us and beyond the Soviets."

He was supported in this Tuesday by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, testifying before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

He said developing an antimissile system is something neither the United States nor Russia has solved. But he didn't say it was impossible.

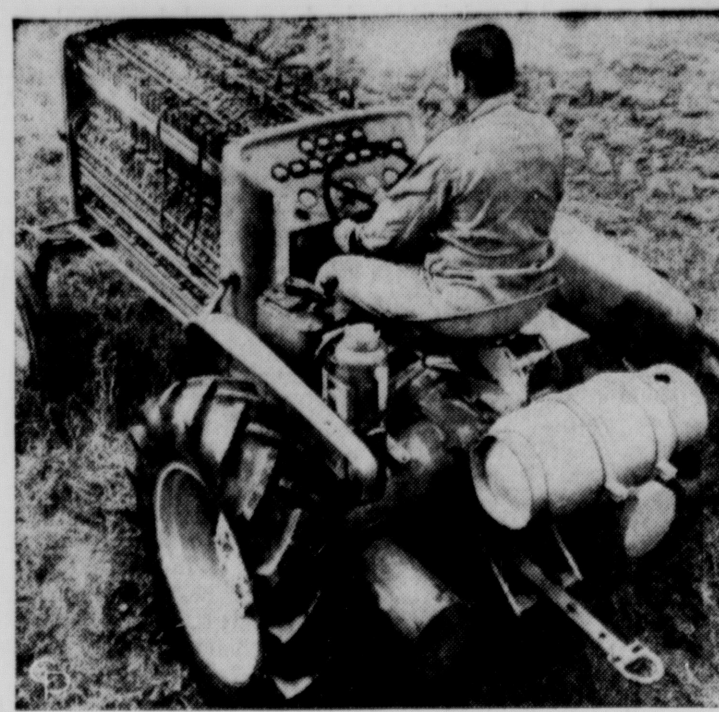

And Tuesday Goldwater, who hasn't yet gone as far as Rockefeller in saying the treaty should be supported, added his warning.

He hammered on the antimissile business, too, saying he wants "iron-clad assurance" development in this field won't be inhibited by the treaty.

Goldwater is an Air Force Reserve major general.

McNamara told the committee: "I know of no one of my senior scientific advisers and no one on the Joint Chiefs of Staff who recommend against the treaty with safeguards."

Arguments about the treaty should provide the most excitement in Washington until the civil rights demonstration two weeks from today.

U.S. Satellites To Probe For Secret A-Tests in Space

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States will launch the first of a series of satellites within the next two months designed for detection of secret nuclear tests millions of miles out in space.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara told about it during his testimony supporting ratification of the nuclear testban treaty.

He said, "As a practical matter, illegal clandestine testing in deep space is not a reasonable proposition for the Soviet Union, and, in any event, it's one against which we can protest ourselves."

"Megaton weapons tests, equivalent to a million tons of TNT or more, would have to be conducted more than 20 million miles from the earth—80 times the distance to the moon—if they were to have a good chance of escaping detection by a ground-based system," McNamara said in his prepared statement.

Such a system could be installed quickly by the Western, or even the neutral nations, McNamara said.

Then he added: "The U.S., on its own, can deploy earth and solar satellite system for detection of deep-space nuclear explosions; for the former, an earth satellite system, we have a first launch scheduled for September or October, this year."

"Such detection systems would offset attempts by a violator to 'shield' his space tests from our detection devices, or, if no attempt were made to shield the test, would force clandestine tests even of a megaton out to distances in the hundreds of millions of miles."

McNamara did not discuss the satellite system in detail.

Disappearing Girl Disavowed by Man

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) Anthony Bares, 24, of Campbell has pleaded innocent to delinquency charges in connection with the disappearance of a 17-year-old girl.

Bares told police he and the girl Carol Ann Allen, a waitress, left Aug. 5, intending to go to California. Bares, who is married, said he changed his mind before they crossed into Indiana and decided to return home.

He said Miss Allen was not happy at home and refused to return so he let her out of his car at Gettysburg in Preble County. The girl, who had only $5 with her, has not been heard from since, her mother told police.

HORMONES—MALE AND FEMALE

Q. Would you explain the function of hormones for both men and women?

A. Hormones are gland-produced chemical substances which regulate various body functions. The so-called sex hormones alter our physical configuration. The child is essentially of neuter gender. At puberty the entire body of the girl is flooded with hormones of femininity which transform her into a woman. A comparable process occurs in the boy who, through the effects of male hormone, is transformed into a young man. The hormone influence persists to about the same degree in both men and women for perhaps 20 years before a marked difference shows up. In women, "sex hormone" production is curtailed more or less abruptly, which brings on the menopause or "change of life." In men there is only a gradual tapering off. This difference in "biological aging" has striking overall effects.

BURSITIS

Q. I have bursitis in my left arm and shoulder. What can I do to get relief?

A. Doctors now have methods of treating this troublesome condition which were not available a few years ago. Self-treatment is ineffective and inadvisable. See your doctor.

There is no need to leave a sick person alone while you make a hurried and worried trip to pick up the medicine. We'll deliver it promptly to your home.

TV CALLING ALL CHAMPS—Two former boxing champions are in Hollywood making their debuts as television actors. Top, retired heavyweight champ Rocky Marciano (right) playfully exchanges punches with actor Vic Morrow (left), star of "Combat." Marciano plays a member of Morrow's squad in one chapter. U.S. Satellites To Probe For Secret A-Tests in Space

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States will launch the first of a series of satellites within the next two months designed for detection of secret nuclear tests millions of miles out in space.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara told about it during his testimony supporting ratification of the nuclear test ban treaty.

He said, "As a practical matter, illegal clandestine testing in deep space is not a reasonable proposition for the Soviet Union, and, in any event, it's one against which we can protest ourselves."

"Megaton weapons tests, equivalent to a million tons of TNT or more, would have to be conducted more than 20 million miles from the earth—80 times the distance to the moon—if they were to have a good chance of escaping detection by a ground-based system," McNamara said in his prepared statement.

Such a system could be installed quickly by the Western, or even the neutral nations, McNamara said.

Then he added: "The U.S., on its own, can deploy earth and solar satellite system for detection of deep-space nuclear explosions; for the former, an earth satellite system, we have a first launch scheduled for September or October, this year."

"Such detection systems would offset attempts by a violator to 'shield' his space tests from our detection devices, or, if no attempt were made to shield the test, would force clandestine tests even of a megaton out to distances in the hundreds of millions of miles."

McNamara did not discuss the satellite system in detail.

Disappearing Girl Disavowed by Man

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) Anthony Bares, 24, of Campbell has pleaded innocent to delinquency charges in connection with the disappearance of a 17-year-old girl.

Bares told police he and the girl Carol Ann Allen, a waitress, left Aug. 5, intending to go to California. Bares, who is married, said he changed his mind before they crossed into Indiana and decided to return home.

He said Miss Allen was not happy at home and refused to return so he let her out of his car at Gettysburg in Preble County. The girl, who had only $5 with her, has not been heard from since, her mother told police.

TODAY In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Wednesday, Aug. 14, the 226th day of 1963. There are 139 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1945 World War II came to an end when Japan surrendered unconditionally. Cease fire orders were issued five days after the United States dropped an atomic bomb on the Japanese city of Nagasaki and eight days after history's first A-bomb fell on Hiroshima.

On this date
In 1848 Oregon was organized as a territory.

In 1925 President Franklin D. Roosevelt signed the Social Security Act.

In 1941, the Atlantic Charter was signed by President Roosevelt and British Prime Minister Winston Churchill.

In 1947, the United States canceled approximately $1 billion in debts owed by Italy.

Ten years ago, U.S. wheat farmers voted 7-1 for continued government acreage controls and a year's extension of 90 per cent parity price support.

Five years ago, a New York-bound KLM Royal Dutch airliner with 99 aboard, including 51 Americans, crashed into the stormy Atlantic Ocean about 130 miles off the Irish coast.

One year ago, the largest cash robbery on record in the United States took place near Plymouth, Mass., when five or six men and a woman held up a mail truck and escaped with more than $1.6 million.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—Washington is in a slow swirl, psychologically and politically.

It waits for the massive civil rights demonstration Aug. 28, hoping that whole memorable day will go off peacefully.

Negotiations between railroads and unions are stalemated. Unless some way is found to stop it, there will be a railroad strike. The arrival and departure of one day, even if everything is peaceful will be an unforgettable burden.

But to have the demonstration followed the next day by a rail strike would be piling climax on climax.

While the city waits Congress, bubbling along at the slowest pace in years, continues to drag its feet and may be here until the end of the year.

The center of this quiet stage is occupied now, and will be for a couple of weeks, by Senate hearings on the limited nuclear test-ban treaty.

That treaty, once approved, could be a fiendish embarrassment to the Kennedy administration if the Russians then try tricks to American disadvantage.

If nothing goes wrong, it will be an asset to President Kennedy in seeking re-election. If it goes wrong it will be an issue in the 1964 campaign.

The administration, conscious of both possibilities, acknowledges risk but insists the treaty's advantages outweigh the disadvantages.

The two most likely Republican presidential candidates as of now—New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and Arizona's Sen. Barry Goldwater—are conscious of the for and against possibilities too.

Both have provided themselves an "I told you so" if the treaty proves a dud.

The treaty has wide popular support, it seems sure to pass the Senate by a wide margin, and neither Rockefeller nor Goldwater has come out against it.

Rockefeller, in fact has suggested it be approved but then he added a list warning of things to look out for.

But most of the things he warned about already had been discussed in one way or another by the administration.

For instance he said this country should "pursue research and development in the vital area of antimissile defense."

He said that Sunday, Aug. 11. But on Aug. 1 at his news conference Kennedy said developing an antimissile missile is "beyond us and beyond the Soviets."

He was supported in this Tuesday by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, testifying before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

He said developing an antimissile system is something neither the United States nor Russia has solved. But he didn't say it was impossible.

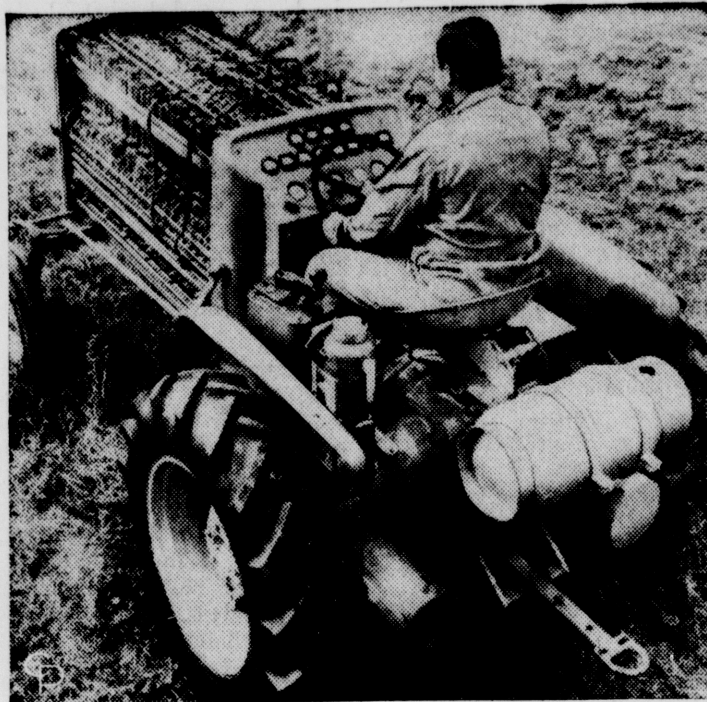

And Tuesday Goldwater, who hasn't yet gone as far as Rockefeller in saying the treaty should be supported, added his warning.

He hammered on the antimissile business, too, saying he wants "iron-clad assurance" development in this field won't be inhibited by the treaty.

Goldwater is an Air Force Reserve major general.

McNamara told the committee: "I know of no one of my senior scientific advisers and no one on the Joint Chiefs of Staff who recommend against the treaty with safeguards."

Arguments about the treaty should provide the most excitement in Washington until the civil rights demonstration two weeks from today.

HORMONES—MALE AND FEMALE

Q. Would you explain the function of hormones for both men and women?

A. Hormones are gland-produced chemical substances which regulate various body functions. The so-called sex hormones alter our physical configuration. The child is essentially of neuter gender. At puberty the entire body of the girl is flooded with hormones of femininity which transform her into a woman. A comparable process occurs in the boy who, through the effects of male hormone, is transformed into a young man. The hormone influence persists to about the same degree in both men and women for perhaps 20 years before a marked difference shows up. In women, "sex hormone" production is curtailed more or less abruptly, which brings on the menopause or "change of life." In men there is only a gradual tapering off. This difference in "biological aging" has striking overall effects.

BURSITIS

Q. I have bursitis in my left arm and shoulder. What can I do to get relief?

A. Doctors now have methods of treating this troublesome condition which were not available a few years ago. Self-treatment is ineffective and inadvisable. See your doctor.

There is no need to leave a sick person alone while you make a hurried and worried trip to pick up the medicine. We'll deliver it promptly to your home.

Westfall Grid Team Opens Drills Friday

The Westfall School District football team will begin practice Friday, it was announced by Asa Elsea, newly employed head coach for the district.

The team will play only a practice schedule this year, according to Elsea who is currently in the process of preparing a field at Jackson high school for the team.

He plans to schedule approximately six games or more for this year. He will carry 30 members on the team.

"We'll just work on fundamental football this year," Elsea said. "And then next year when we play a regular schedule the boys will be ready to learn the finer points of the game."

WESTFALL has been accepted into the Scioto Valley Conference beginning the 1964-65 school year. Elsea, a graduate of Circleville High School and Bowling Green State University, was a place kicking specialist and played center on the BG team.

He will conduct early workouts without assistant coaches until school starts. Aides probably will be named at that time.

Logan Elm Braves Set Sights on Successful Season

The Logan Elm High School football team will be shooting for a fourth consecutive winning season when practice begins Friday.

Assisting head coach Keith Merrin will be Jerry Leist, a graduate of Circleville High School and Ohio State University.

Leist played guard on the CHS grid team. Last year he was reserve and freshman basketball coach for the Braves.

Merrin reported that 48 boys have taken physicals in anticipation of turning out for football. There are 12 seniors, 12 juniors, 14 sophomores and 10 freshmen this year.

FOURTEEN letterman return from last year's squad that compiled an admirable record of seven wins and two losses, winning the Scioto Valley Conference Championship.

During the past three years, football teams at Logan Elm under Merrin's guidance have garnered 19 wins against five losses.

The Braves anticipate solid backfield strength this season, with quarterback Jeff Lutz back to rally the signals, Arnie Gabriel returning at fullback and veterans Gary Hardman, Bob Stant, Rick Shaw and Bill Huffman to fill the backfield positions.

Merrin's biggest worry currently is at the guard and tackle positions which All-Conference guard Jim Hara and tackle Danny Hicks vacated.

Also leaving gaps to be filled in the line is the graduation of end Bob Parker, defensive lineman Lester Hayslip and Brad Dunkel. The backfield will be handicapped by the graduation of both Jim Martindale and Terry Anderson. Gary Hardman and Jim Hicks have been named captains for the coming season. Returning lettermen are:

BOB STANT, junior, halfback; Bill Huffman, junior, fullback; Jeff Lutz, junior, quarterback; Gary Hardman, senior, halfback; Mike Clifton, senior, end; Rick Shaw, junior, halfback; Larry Radabaugh, senior, end; Jim Hicks, senior, tackle; Dannie Shaw, senior, guard; Mike Temple, sophomore, tackle; Louie Jordan, junior, end; Arnie Gabriel, senior, fullback; Neil Wolfe, junior, tackle; Brent Rhoads, junior, center.

According to Merrin the Conference team looming as the greatest threat to Logan Elm's title is Picketon. Besides an all veteran line, the Pike County entry has the All-Conference quarterback returning and speedy halfback Harry Rittenour who played end last year.

Picketon handed Logan Elm its lone Conference defeat last year. New teams on the Logan Elm schedule this year are Teays Valley and the newest entry in the Scioto Valley Conference, Union.

Here is the schedule: Sept. 6 Laurelville Sept. 12 at Union Sept. 20 Sheridan Sept. 27 at Teays Valley Oct. 4 at Picketon Oct. 11 at The Plains (Mt. Sterling) Oct. 18 Union Oct. 25 Paint Valley Nov. 1 Picketon Nov. 8 at Paint Valley

Spahn Chalks Up Strikeout Record for Southpaw Hurlers

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The Milwaukee Braves' great Warren Spahn, counting his years at 42 and fighting recurring arm trouble, has claimed another record — striking out more batters than any left-handed pitcher in baseball's history.

Spahn admitted after reaching the milestone in a 4-3 decision over the National League leading Los Angeles Dodgers Tuesday night that records were nice to own but the victory was the important thing.

In taking the triumph Spahn fanned five Dodgers — running his total to 2383, or two more than Rube Waddell's 53-year-old mark. Only five other pitchers, all of them right-handers, have fanned more in all baseball's history.

Spahn said he knew four strikeouts would give him the record. "I don't strike out too many," he said, "so I figured that if the pitcher came up four times, I'd be able to get it."

And the record went to Spahn when he fanned Los Angeles reliever Bob Miller in the seventh inning. The Dodger hurler was called out when he took a fast ball on the outside corner.

"A fellow dreams about things like that," said Spahn. "You know — striking out the big hitter, having him take a vicious swing and missing it. Instead, I get out the pitcher — and on a called strike. But I'll take it — it's a big thrill."

What's next for Spahn, who ran his lifetime victory total to 341 and his season count to 14-5? It's not retirement.

"I'll never quit," he declared. "They'll have to tear off my uniform."

"Having a decent year so I can be back the next season" is his goal. "I'll keep going as long as my arm will let me. There are too many good pitchers here. If I'm out for any length of time I may not get back. I've got to pitch this year to get a job next year, and the one after that."

Spahn, who had the first major arm trouble of his career last fall, has had two more bouts with tendonitis in his elbow this season. The first kept him out 18 days early in July and the second sidelined him July 29.

His appearance against the Dodgers marked his return to action as he seeks his 13th season of 20 or more victories.

University Aides Called In Butts Case

ATLANTA — University of Georgia officials were prepared to take the witness stand today in Curtis Publishing Co.'s defense against a $10-million libel suit filed by Wally Butts, former Georgia athletic director.

The trial entered its eighth day after testimony from William C. Hartman Jr., who coached football at Georgia during Butts' 21-year tenure as head coach of the Bulldogs.

Hartman said he was at a Feb. 22 meeting of university officials who confronted Butts with the substance of an affidavit given by George P. Burnett, Atlanta insurance salesman.

Burnett has testified he accidentally was cut into a calf last Sept. 13 and heard Butts giving data on Georgia's team to Alabama coach Paul (Bear) Bryant. The Curtis-owned Saturday Evening Post used Burnett's affidavit as the substance of an article charging that Butts and Bryant rigged the 1962 Georgia-Alabama game.

"His (Butts) remark was that he had talked with Bryant many times... but that it (the conversation) had been misconstrued," Hartman said.

Earlier, a former associate of Burnett, John Carmichael, testified that the notes were not the same that Burnett had immediately after replacing the telephone Sept. 13.

Hartman testified he did not consider the notes of any significance.

Maloney Wins 18th as Reds Top Giants

CINCINNATI (AP) Cincinnati's Jim Maloney turned back a crippled San Francisco team with two hits to score his 18th victory Tuesday night in a game which found amazing Willie Mays playing shortstop in the eighth inning. The score was 4-0.

Maloney, who has been beaten only four times this season, outlasted another great right-hander, Juan Marichal. Marichal gave up home runs to Frank Robinson and Vada Pinson, each coming with a runner on base.

Since National League — leading Los Angeles also lost Tuesday night, the victory enabled the Reds, now in fourth place, to gain a game on the front runner, Cincinnati is now 6½ games behind the Dodgers.

Manager Alvin Dark said he put Mays on short because of a manpower shortage due to injuries and a suspension. Jimmy Hart who started at first base was taken out when an injured shoulder began to bother him causing Dark to shift Mays from center-field to shortstop.

Marichal, trying for his 19th victory against five losses, matched the hard-throwing Maloney for three innings. Then in the fourth, Tommy Harper singled, stole second and scored when Robinson hit his 17th season homer over the right center field wall.

In the eighth, Harper beat out a bunt and scored as Pinson hit his 13th homer. Dark then called Bob Bolin in to pitch.

It was Maloney's second victory over San Francisco. He now has pitched five shutouts.

The Giants' Frank Lary is scheduled to pitch against Cincinnati's John Tsitouris tonight.

Hunting Licenses for 1963 Are Now on Sale in County

Hunting licenses for 1963 are available at locations throughout the county, it was announced today by Pickaway County license distributor Robert Wolf.

Wolf said the cost for resident licenses will remain at $2, plus a 25 cent fee. But non-resident licenses have been upped to $20, plus the 25 cent fee.

New licenses will be required for all hunters as of Sept. 1.

The 1963 squirrel season opens Sept. 6 in both the north and south zones of the state.

IN THE northern zone, which encompasses the greatest part of Pickaway County, the season closes Nov. 2. In the southern zone, which is south of Route 159 in the county, the season closes Nov. 16.

Squirrel may be legally taken on state public hunting areas until Dec. 31. According to State Wildlife officials, very little hunting is done in the hilly sections of the state which abounds in gray squirrels. They hope to encourage squirrel hunting in this section with the extended season.

Wolf warned persons intending to use public areas to contact the proper officials before entering the area.

At Marion State Park, no hunting is allowed until Oct. 15. Other state controlled hunting areas do have seasons which do not coincide with the periods listed in the law digest published by the Division of Wildlife and given to license purchasers.

A list of areas for public fishing and hunting and maps of many public hunting areas may be obtained by sending a large, self addressed, stamped envelope to the Department of Natural Resources Publications, 1500 Dublin Road, Columbus.

The team then surprised Manager Smith with a trophy for his winning efforts during the year.

The night was topped as the Dad's copped a softball game from the youngsters.

Earl Hoffman averaged 21.7 points a game for Penn State's basketball team last season.

Westfall Grid Team Opens Drills Friday

The Westfall School District football team will begin practice Friday, it was announced by Asa Elsea, newly employed head coach for the district.

The team will play only a practice schedule this year, according to Elsea who is currently in the process of preparing a field at Jackson high school for the team.

He plans to schedule approximately six games or more for this year. He will carry 30 members on the team.

"We'll just work on fundamental football this year," Elsea said. "And then next year when we play a regular schedule the boys will be ready to learn the finer points of the game."

WESTFALL has been accepted into the Scioto Valley Conference beginning the 1964-65 school year. Elsea, a graduate of Circleville High School and Bowling Green State University, was a place kicking specialist and played center on the BG team.

He will conduct early workouts without assistant coaches until school starts. Aides probably will be named at that time.

Logan Elm Braves Set Sights on Successful Season

The Logan Elm High School football team will be shooting for a fourth consecutive winning season when practice begins Friday.

Assisting head coach Keith Merrin will be Jerry Leist, a graduate of Circleville High School and Ohio State University.

Leist played guard on the CHS grid team. Last year he was reserve and freshman basketball coach for the Braves.

Merrin reported that 48 boys have taken physicals in anticipation of turning out for football. There are 12 seniors, 12 juniors, 14 sophomores and 10 freshmen this year.

FOURTEEN letterman return from last year's squad that compiled an admirable record of seven wins and two losses, winning the Scioto Valley Conference Championship.

During the past three years, football teams at Logan Elm under Merrin's guidance have garnered 19 wins against five losses.

The Braves anticipate solid backfield strength this season, with quarterback Jeff Lutz back to rally the signals, Arnie Gabriel returning at fullback and veterans Gary Hardman, Bob Stant, Rick Shaw and Bill Huffman to fill the backfield positions.

Merrin's biggest worry currently is at the guard and tackle positions which All-Conference guard Jim Hara and tackle Danny Hicks vacated.

Also leaving gaps to be filled in the line is the graduation of end Bob Parker, defensive lineman Lester Hayslip and Brad Dunkel. The backfield will be handicapped

Spahn Chalks Up Strikeout Record for Southpaw Hurlers

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The Milwaukee Braves' great Warren Spahn, counting his years at 42 and fighting recurring arm trouble, has claimed another record — striking out more batters than any left-handed pitcher in baseball's history.

Spahn admitted after reaching the milestone in a 4-3 decision over the National League leading Los Angeles Dodgers Tuesday night that records were nice to own but the victory was the important thing.

In taking the triumph Spahn fanned five Dodgers — running his total to 2383, or two more than Rube Waddell's 53-year-old mark. Only five other pitchers, all of them right-handers, have fanned more in all baseball's history.

Spahn said he knew four strikeouts would give him the record. "I don't strike out too many," he said, "so I figured that if the pitcher came up four times, I'd be able to get it."

And the record went to Spahn when he fanned Los Angeles reliever Bob Miller in the seventh inning. The Dodger hurler was called out when he took a fast ball on the outside corner.

"A fellow dreams about things like that," said Spahn. "You know — striking out the big hitter, having him take a vicious swing and missing it. Instead, I get out the pitcher — and on a called strike. But I'll take it — it's a big thrill."

What's next for Spahn, who ran his lifetime victory total to 341 and his season count to 14-5? It's not retirement.

"I'll never quit," he declared. "They'll have to tear off my uniform."

"Having a decent year so I can be back the next year" is his goal. "I'll keep going as long as my arm will let me. There are too many good pitchers here. If I'm out for any length of time I may not get back. I've got to pitch this year to get a job next year, and the one after that and the one after that."

Spahn, who had the first major arm trouble of his career last fall, has had two more bouts with ten-

Maloney Wins 18th as Reds Top Giants

CINCINNATI (AP) — Cincinnati's Jim Maloney turned back a crippled San Francisco team with two hits to score his 18th victory Tuesday night in a game which found amazing Willie Mays playing shortstop in the eighth inning. The score was 4-0.

Maloney, who has been beaten only four times this season, outlasted another great righthander, Juan Marichal. Marichal gave up home runs to Frank Robinson and Vada Pinson, each coming with a runner on base.

Since National League — leading Los Angeles also lost Tuesday night, the victory enabled the Reds, now in fourth place, to gain a game on the front runner, Cincinnati is now 6½ games behind the Dodgers.

Manager Alvin Dark said he put Mays on short because of a manpower shortage due to injuries and a suspension. Jimmy Hart who started at first base was taken out when an injured shoulder began to bother him causing Dark to shift Mays from center-field to shortstop.

Marichal, trying for his 19th victory against five losses, matched the hard-throwing Maloney for three innings. Then in the fourth, Tommy Harper singled, stole second and scored when Robinson hit his 17th season homer over the right center field wall.

In the eighth, Harper beat out a bunt and scored as Pinson hit his 13th homer. Dark then called Bob Bolin in to pitch.

It was Maloney's second victory over San Francisco. He now has pitched five shutouts.

The Giants' Frank Limy is scheduled to pitch against Cincinnati's John Tsitouris tonight.

LL All-Stars Downed by Monroe Unit

The local Little League major All-Stars dropped a tilt last night to Monroe, 12-8, although the winners collected only five hits.

Blair was the winning tosser. He fired the complete game and allowed 12 hits, while walking 11 and fanning a dozen.

The locals used four hurlers. Justice started for them and fanned two. Bryce Brown came on and whiffed one.

Andy Blanton fanned one during his mound stint and Frank Carter did the same. Between the four hurlers they allowed five hits and walked 12.

BLAIR boomed a triple for the winners, Lightle had a double and Rittinger managed two singles.

Steve Thomas socked two singles for the losers and Phil Diehl batted three.

The locals will try their luck tomorrow at 7:15 p. m. on the Ted Lewis Park main diamond against Derby.

Waite Hoyt of the New York Yankees pitched 27 innings against the New York Giants in the 1921 World Series without allowing an earned run.

Hunting Licenses for 1963 Are Now on Sale in County

Hunting licenses for 1963 are available at locations throughout the county, it was announced today by Pickaway County license distributor Robert Wolf.

Wolf said the cost for resident licenses will remain at $2, plus a 25 cent fee. But non-resident licenses have been upped to $20, plus the 25 cent fee.

New licenses will be required for all hunters as of Sept. 1.

The 1963 squirrel season opens Sept. 6 in both the north and south zones of the state.

IN THE northern zone, which encompasses the greatest part of Pickaway County, the season closes Nov. 2. In the southern zone, which is south of Route 159 in the county, the season closes Nov. 16.

Squirrel may be legally taken on state public hunting areas until Dec. 31. According to State Wildlife officials, very little hunting is done in the hilly sections of the state which abounds in gray squirrels. They hope to encourage squirrel hunting in this section with the extended season.

Wolf warned persons intending to use public areas to contact the proper officials before entering the area.

At Marion State Park, no hunting is allowed until Oct. 15. Other state controlled hunting areas do have seasons which do not coincide with the periods listed in the law digest published by the Division of Wildlife and given to license purchasers.

TV Gridders Get Physicals On Thursday

All candidates for the Teays Valley High School football team are to report to the gymnasium at 9 a. m. tomorrow for physicals, it was announced today by TV mentor Marion Waits.

Waits said equipment will be distributed at this time.

From 7 to 8 p. m. candidates and their parents are to be at the Teays Valley auditorium for an introduction with coaches and to hear an explanation of TV football policies. A short gridiron movie will be shown.

Football practice will begin Friday. The first Teays Valley game is Sept. 6 at Amanda - Clearcreek.

Coca Cola Jets Feted at Picnic

The Champion Coca-Cola Jets of Little League major fame were treated to a cookout picnic at the Pickaway Country Club last night, with their mothers and fathers present.

Two trophies were presented to the most valuable and most improved players by manager Lee Smith on behalf of the team sponsor. Taking the MVP was Rick Sims and the MIP, Gary Spangler. These boys were elected by the squad for these honors.

The team then surprised Manager Smith with a trophy for his winning efforts during the year. The night was topped as the Dad's copped a softball game from the youngsters.

Earl Hoffman averaged 21.7 points a game for Penn State's basketball team last season.

Mouth Guard Mandatory

Ohio High School Gridders Poised

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—High school football, with its subs and stars, and its unique sounds, smells and sweat, starts this week on Ohio's gridirons.

More than 35,000 youngsters representing 685 schools will flood the state's playing fields as practice starts Friday. Uniforms and shoes may be issued Thursday to the youngsters who have passed physical exams and been pronounced ready for the season's combat.

Face masks, use of which was made mandatory last year, will be joined by tooth and mouth protectors on the "must" list this fall. Only players bearing a letter from their physician or dentist may be excused from wearing the mouth guards—and there must be a valid reason for the excuse.

Teams are limited to three scrimmages with other schools prior to the opening of the season Sept. 6. One scrimmage may be held Saturday, Aug. 24, the second on Aug. 27 or 28, and the third on Saturday, Aug. 31. Opening games are the following Friday.

Paul Landis, new commissioner of the Ohio High School Athletic Association, said schedules are limited to one preview and nine regular games, or 10 regular games without a preview. The only exceptions are for schools in Toledo, Akron, Cincinnati and Dayton where, because of early schedule-making, 11 regular contests or 10 and a preview will be permitted this year. Next season the 10-game limit applies to all.

Having voted down the National High School Federation rules for the upteenth time, Ohio schools will operate again this season under the NCAA code with some modifications.

One innovation, urged by the coaches and approved by the state association, will find all referees wearing white caps. The other officials may be bareheaded as usual.

Under new substitution rules one or more players may be inserted when time is out or when the ball changes hands after a kick. One may enter while the clock is running, but in all cases the substitution must be completed before the ball is ready for play.

Since the mid-forties, when the Associated Press poll started determining the state champion, all the titles have gone to northern Ohio teams. But that could change this year, since the Rebels have given down-state football a terrific boost by winning the last three all-star games.

Canton McKinley, two-time state champ which spent last season under suspension for some frowned-upon recruiting maneuvers, is back in good graces again. The Bulldogs, along with Massillon, Steubenville, Niles and Warren Harding, have formed a new All-American High School Football League which could be the toughest loop in the country. The circuit will open this fall and will play a full round-robin schedule by 1965. Alliance and Cuyahoga Falls are prospective new members.

Toledo Central Catholic won the state crown in 1962, but Coach-of-the-Year Tom McHugh has lost much of the talent which powered its way to the title.

As usual, the championship race is wide open.

870 Yearlings Nominated for Jug in 1965

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP)—The 20th annual Little Brown Jug scheduled in 1965 has drawn 70 yearling standard breeds as nominees, a record for the pacing event for three-year-olds.

The 1963 pace had 795 original nominees, and the 1964 event drew 756. Nomination fee is $5. The 1963 classic is scheduled Sept. 19 during the Grand Circuit meeting at Delaware Fairgrounds' half-mile track.

Hanover Shoe Farms led the list with 72 nominees for the 1965 race. Other leaders were Meadowlands Farm, Pickwick Farms, Castleton Farm, Walnut Hill Farm and Almahurst Farm.

The Ohio Standardbred Futurities also received a record entry of 1,402. Chairman H. C. (AHank) Thomson of the Little Brown Jug Society said. Previous high was recorded a year ago when 1,313 were named for the two-year-old pacing and trotting features here.

gasoline taxes, a bit of your benefits would be nibbled away. Local gasoline, liquor and tobacco taxes would no longer be deductible, although income, real estate and general sales taxes still would be.

—And if you dent old trusty's fender, you would not be able to claim the whole repair bill as a casualty loss, only the amount over $100 for each mishap to car or other property.

—If you have considerable income from dividends, one change the Treasury wants made would nick your over-all tax gain. This would be repeal of the 4 per cent tax credit, a considerable offset to the tax benefit of many higher-income taxpayers. There may be a compromise that would minimize the effect on smaller dividend recipients.

—But if you are thinking of selling some stocks, real estate, or other property you have held at least two years and on which there will be a profit, you're in luck. You would only have to include 40 per cent, instead of 50 per cent, of such capital gains in your taxable income. And if you're in a high bracket your top capital gains tax would be only 21 per cent instead of 25.

—One or two cautions: If you are in the business of building or buying real estate, taking maximum depreciation and selling in a few years to take the most advantage of capital gains—you face stiffened rules. And if in the future you inherit property on which gains have accumulated, you would encounter somewhat tighter tax treatment.

—On fringe benefits, the changes would have an uneven effect. If you get sick and your employer continues your pay, you would get a special deduction for it only after a month, instead of the present rule of a week.

—If you are 65 or older, the new law would give you at least two specific benefits. Your purchases of medicines would be fully deductible, without regard to the present 1 per cent of income floor. And if you sold your home, you would get capital gains tax consideration on any increase in value, even if you did not buy a new house. There would be no tax on gains if the house sold for no more than $20,000, and there would be a reduced tax if it brought more.

Columbus Area Man, Child Die in Crash

BARSTOW, Calif. (AP)—A Columbus, Ohio, area family bound for a visit with California relatives and a side trip to Disneyland was driving west on U.S. 66 through the Mojave Desert Tuesday.

A Sacramento, Calif., woman in one car and her daughter following in another vehicle were heading east on the same highway on their way to a new home in Sarasota, Fla.

The Sacramento mother's car went out of control on a curve and collided head-on with the Ohioans' auto, resulting in death for three principals and critical injuries for three others.

Killed were William C. Parker, 39, of Blacklick, Ohio and his daughter Deborah about 13 and Mrs. Sarah A. Lance, 49, of Sacramento.

Hospitalized were Parker's wife, Mitzie, 29, and two other daughters, Geraldine, 12, and Laura, 10. Mrs. Lance's daughter, Davilyn, 18, witnessed the accident.

CFD Launches New Program On Training

Members of the Circleville Fire Department launched their first monthly training session yesterday at the Pickaway County Fairgrounds.

According to Fire Chief Bernard Wolfe, classes on firefighting and other phases of departmental work will be conducted once each month. The instruction will be presented outside while weather permits.

Yesterday's session centered on pumping operations and fire streams, utilizing 2½-inch hose. Smoke and gas mask instruction was presented inside.

The class lasted about two hours. The outside work was conducted at the Fairgrounds in order to allow firemen more space to conduct their drills. All eight department members were able to take part in phases of the class, although two remained on duty at the fire station.

Chief Wolfe said the next class will be held Sept. 10, probably at the Fairgrounds.

Business Briefs

The G. C. Murphy Co. has reported net earnings for the first six months were $1,878,912, or 45 cents a share on sales of $113,468,729. In 1962 the Company earned $2,302,566, or 55 cents a share.

The sales decline of 3.5 per cent in the first six months was reversed in July, when sales increased 1.9 per cent. With the major share of the year's sales and profits customarily produced in the last half, a continuation of this trend will produce improvement in both for the year, according to J. S. Mack, chairman of the Board and president.

In the first six months, one store was opened and two were closed. A store was opened July 18 in Texarkana, Texas, and two other new stores are scheduled for opening before the end of the year.

Stock Market Drifts Lower

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market dampened by revived fears of a railroad strike, moved irregularly lower early this afternoon in moderate trading.

The Aug. 29 deadline seemed close as efforts to settle the work rules dispute were reported at a stalemate.

Losses of fractions to a point among key stocks outnumbered gains in the same range. Wider moves occurred among some of the more volatile issues.

Rails were the worst losers among the major groups. The market began to drift lower from the start but recovered partially as trading entered the afternoon.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off 7 at 272.5 with industrials down 6, rails down 1.3 and utilities down 2.

Spears pleaded innocent of first-degree murder by reason of insanity at Tuesday's arraignment in Fairfield County Common Pleas Court and was ordered to Lima State Hospital for 30 days' observation.

Spears also pleaded innocent of burglary of an inhabited dwelling to commit a felony and assault with a deadly weapon. These charges involved an attack on a third woman.

The 26-year-old Lancaster man is charged with killing Mrs. Virginia Wagner last December and Mrs. Mona Eckard last May.

Dayton Voters OK Present City Charter

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Arguments had been plentiful, and pointed, both in favor of changing the Dayton city government to a strong mayor system and for keeping the status quo.

But when the issue came to a vote Tuesday, only a smattering of the electorate—about one ballot in seven—called for scrapping the commission-city manager arrangement adopted here a half-century ago.

The final unofficial tally in the unexpectedly lopsided vote was 5,183 to amend the city charter and 3-1268 to leave it as is.

The amendment would have provided for a strong mayor elected under a party label. Partisan elections also would have been held for a nine-member council chosen by districts but administrative and executive powers would have been concentrated in the mayor's hands.

In defeating the amendment the voters indicated satisfaction with the setup in which a five member commission is elected at large on a nonpartisan basis. The commission has hiring and firing power over the city manager, determines policy and instructs him to execute it.

Close to 45 per cent of the registered voters among the city's 270,000 people went to the polls Tuesday with the proposed amendment the main issue. They also selected four of six candidates to run in November for two City Commission seats.

Today in Washington

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington:

PAY RAISES: A presidential advisory panel has recommended hefty salary boosts for members of Congress and the Cabinet. Supreme Court justices the vice president and the speaker of the House, among other high-ranking federal officials.

The group, headed by industrialist Clarence B. Randall, suggested legislation on the proposed pay hikes be made effective next January. The added cost to the government would not exceed $20 million a year, the panel said.

Among the suggested salary boosts: doubling the $25,000 annual pay of Cabinet members, raising Congress members' salaries from $22,500 to $35,000 and a raise for Supreme Court justices, the vice president and speaker of the House from $35,000 to $60,000.

CIVIL DEFENSE: A House Armed Services subcommittee had approved a bill calling for $175 million in incentive payments to spur construction of fallout shelters.

The federal government would make the payments at the rate of $25 a shelter space to public and nonprofit institutions. The one year program is expected to produce about 10 million spaces.

"OCCUPANT": Junk mail washes up at the White House much as it does at the home of John Q. Public, but with this difference: President Kennedy has helpers to "file" it in the wastebasket for him.

About 1 per cent of all mail received at 1600 Pennsylvania Ave. is either "occupant" junk mail or advertising matter, the White House estimated Tuesday. Some of it is addressed to "Jack Kennedy."

All the mail received goes through the White House mail room and everything gets at least a glance before disposal. A small amount, White House aides said, escapes the wastebasket being referred to some staffer's attention or filed.

Negro Scout Ban Told at Hearing

LEBANON, Ohio (AP)—A Wilmington scout master says he could not obtain entrance for three Negro boys in his Scout troop when they stopped to swim at Old Mill Stream Park last summer.

L. D. Baker, partner in operation of the park, contended through an attorney however he was never asked to allow the Negro teenagers into the park swimming area.

This was the case for both sides Tuesday before hearing examiner Stanley Harper Jr. of Cincinnati for the Ohio Civil Rights Commission. The incident occurred July 7, 1962.

Harper said he would study the case before giving his recommendation but gave no idea when he would rule.

This would be repeal of the 4 per cent tax credit, a considerable offset to the tax benefit of many higher-income taxpayers. There may be a compromise that would minimize the effect on smaller dividend recipients.

—But if you are thinking of selling some stocks, real estate, or other property you have held at least two years and on which there will be a profit, you're in luck. You would only have to include 40 per cent, instead of 50 per cent, of such capital gains in your taxable income. And if you're in a high bracket your top capital gains tax would be only 21 per cent instead of 25.

—One or two cautions: If you are in the business of building or buying real estate, taking maximum depreciation and selling in a few years to take the most advantage of capital gains—you face stiffened rules. And if in the future you inherit property on which gains have accumulated, you would encounter somewhat tighter tax treatment.

—On fringe benefits, the changes would have an uneven effect. If you get sick and your employer continues your pay, you would get a special deduction for it only after a month, instead of the present rule of a week.

—If you are 65 or older, the new law would give you at least two specific benefits. Your purchases of medicines would be fully deductible, without regard to the present 1 per cent of income floor. And if you sold your home, you would get capital gains tax consideration on any increase in value, even if you did not buy a new house. There would be no tax on gains if the house sold for no more than $20,000, and there would be a reduced tax if it brought more.

Columbus Area Man, Child Die in Crash

BARSTOW, Calif. (AP)—A Columbus, Ohio, area family bound for a visit with California relatives and a side trip to Disneyland was driving west on U.S. 66 through the Mojave Desert Tuesday.

A Sacramento, Calif., woman in one car and her daughter following in another vehicle were heading east on the same highway on their way to a new home in Sarasota, Fla.

The Sacramento mother's car went out of control on a curve and collided head-on with the Ohioans' auto, resulting in death for three principals and critical injuries for three others.

Killed were William C. Parker, 39, of Blacklick, Ohio and his daughter Deborah about 13 and Mrs. Sarah A. Lance, 49, of Sacramento.

Hospitalized were Parker's wife, Mitzie, 29, and two other daughters, Geraldine, 12, and Laura, 10.

Mrs. Lance's daughter, Davilyn, 18, witnessed the accident.

CFD Launches New Program On Training

Members of the Circleville Fire Department launched their first monthly training session yesterday at the Pickaway County Fairgrounds.

According to Fire Chief Bernard Wolfe, classes on firefighting and other phases of departmental work will be conducted once each month. The instruction will be presented outside while weather permits.

Yesterday's session centered on pumping operations and fire streams, utilizing 2½-inch hose. Smoke and gas mask instruction was presented inside.

The class lasted about two hours. The outside work was conducted at the Fairgrounds in order to allow firemen more space to conduct their drills. All eight department members were able to take part in phases of the class, although two remained on duty at the fire station.

Chief Wolfe said the next class will be held Sept. 10, probably at the Fairgrounds.

Business Briefs

The G. C. Murphy Co. has reported net earnings for the first six months were $1,878,912, or 45 cents a share on sales of $113,468,729. In 1962 the Company earned $2,302,566, or 55 cents a share.

The sales decline of 3.5 per cent in the first six months was reversed in July, when sales increased 1.9 per cent. With the major share of the year's sales and profits customarily produced in the last half, a continuation of this trend will produce improvement in both for the year, according to J. S. Mack, chairman of the Board and president.

In the first six months, one store was opened and two were closed. A store was opened July 18 in Texarkana, Texas, and two other new stores are scheduled for opening before the end of the year.

Stock Market Drifts Lower

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market dampened by revived fears of a railroad strike, moved irregularly lower early this afternoon in moderate trading.

The Aug. 29 deadline seemed close as efforts to settle the work rules dispute were reported at a stalemate.

Losses of fractions to a point among key stocks outnumbered gains in the same range. Wider moves occurred among some of the more volatile issues.

Rails were the worst losers among the major groups. The market began to drift lower from the start but recovered partially as trading entered the afternoon.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off .7 at 272.5 with industrials down .6, rails down 1.3 and utilities down .2.

Dayton Voters OK Present City Charter

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Arguments had been plentiful, and pointed, both in favor of changing the Dayton city government to a strong mayor system and for keeping the status quo.

But when the issue came to a vote Tuesday, only a smattering of the electorate—about one ballot in seven—called for scrapping the commission-city manager arrangement adopted here a half-century ago.

The final unofficial tally in the unexpectedly lopsided vote was 5,183 to amend the city charter and 3-1268 to leave it as is.

The amendment would have provided for a strong mayor elected under a party label. Partisan elections also would have been held for a nine-member council chosen by districts but administrative and executive powers would have been concentrated in the mayor's hands.

In defeating the amendment the voters indicated satisfaction with the setup in which a five member commission is elected at large on a nonpartisan basis. The commission has hiring and firing power over the city manager, determines policy and instructs him to execute it.

Close to 45 per cent of the registered voters among the city's 270,000 people went to the polls Tuesday with the proposed amendment the main issue. They also selected four of six candidates to run in November for two City Commission seats.

Today in Washington

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
WASHINGTON (AP) — In the news from Washington:

PAY RAISES: A presidential advisory panel has recommended hefty salary boosts for members of Congress and the Cabinet. Supreme Court justices the vice president and the speaker of the House, among other high-ranking federal officials.

The group, headed by industrialist Clarence B. Randall, suggested legislation on the proposed pay hikes be made effective next January. The added cost to the government would not exceed $20 million a year, the panel said.

Among the suggested salary boosts: doubling the $25,000 annual pay of Cabinet members, raising Congress members' salaries from $22,500 to $35,000 and a raise for Supreme Court justices, the vice president and speaker of the House from $35,000 to $60,000.

CIVIL DEFENSE: A House Armed Services subcommittee had approved a bill calling for $175 million in incentive payments to spur construction of fallout shelters.

The federal government would make the payments at the rate of $25 a shelter space to public and nonprofit institutions. The one year program is expected to produce about 10 million spaces.

"OCCUPANT": Junk mail washes up at the White House much as it does at the home of John Q. Public, but with this difference: President Kennedy has helpers to "file" it in the wastebasket for him.

About 1 per cent of all mail received at 1600 Pennsylvania Ave. is either "occupant" junk mail or advertising matter, the White House estimated Tuesday. Some of it is addressed to "Jack Kennedy."

All the mail received goes through the White House mail room and everything gets at least a glance before disposal. A small amount, White House aides said, escapes the wastebasket being referred to some staffer's attention or filed.

Negro Scout Ban Told at Hearing

LEBANON, Ohio (AP)—A Wilmington scout master says he could not obtain entrance for three Negro boys in his Scout troop when they stopped to swim at Old Mill Stream Park last summer.

L. D. Baker, partner in operation of the park, contended through an attorney however he was never asked to allow the Negro teen-agers into the park swimming area.

This was the case for both sides Tuesday before hearing examiner Stanley Harper Jr. of Cincinnati for the Ohio Civil Rights Commission. The incident occurred July 7, 1962.

Harper said he would study the case before giving his recommendation but gave no idea when he would rule.
